RAF Bombers Rout Goering-Led Armada

RAF BLOCKS INVASION

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct. 18—Great Britain has defeated the first attempt by the Germans, led by Reichmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Nazi air chief, to invade England, the air ministry divulged in a dramatic announcement today. The attempt was made on Sept. 16, when a large number of German shock troops embarked from continental channel ports and headed for English shores, the air ministry disclosed.

Goering, Berlin despatches told, at the time, had personally flown over Britain the night before in a Junkers bomber.

Advised of the invasion move within a few minutes after it began, British Royal Air Force bombers roared across the channel and launched a terrific attack against the Nazi troopships. The ferocity of the RAF assault was so great that the Germans were forced to abandon the attack.

British quarters indicated that the RAF, while being advised of important ship movements in the German-held channel ports on that day, was not actually aware at the time that an invasion attempt was being made.

It was thought the troopships were probably being prepared for a possible invasion attempt. Nevertheless, the RAF bombers rained tons of high explosives on the ships and also swoopd low to sweep their decks with a withering hail of machine-gun fire.

The British attack was so fierce that the German armada was broken up and those ships which had started out were forced to flee back to port.

RAF BALKED PLAN

The British fliers thought at the time it was just part of another day's work. Now, according to the air ministry announcement, information has been received from a neutral source disclosing that German troops had actually been embarked on these ships for an invasion of England, but the plans were not carried out because of the sustained offensive by the RAF.

The information received from the neutral source did not mention whether the Germans had suffered any heavy casualties at the time.

However, it was recalled that about the time this attempt was made, British air ministry announcements frequently referred to heavy damage inflicted on barges and other ship concentrations in the German-held channel ports by the RAF.

The actual number of German troops involved in this first invasion attempt is not known, but it was thought it must have been large.

100,000 MEN NEEDED

Military observers have estimated that it would take at least 100,000 troops to effect a successful landing on the English shores.

However, it was considered doubtful that anything like this number had actually embarked on the attempt repulsed so swiftly by the RAF.

It was considered more likely that the German force may have been something in the nature of a "miniature" invasion army designed to test the resistance of the British.

Huge Nazi Losses Bared In Early Invasion Stories

By Associated Press

The day of the now reported invasion smashing was marked by a German announcement that Reichsmarshal Wilhelm Goering personally scouted London the night of Sept. 15 at the controls of a Junkers plane and by a new German shelling of Dover which injured 11 persons.

Several persons arriving in New York from Europe recently have told of seeing bodies of German soldiers washed ashore at French channel ports.

There have been repeated reports that invasion had been attempted.

Bombers Wreck Berlin War Plants, Clog Nazi Traffic

LONDON, Oct. 18 (AP)—The RAF's "master scheme of bombing Germany," the Air Ministry News Service said today, has "partially wrecked several war factories in Berlin, almost gutted the Berlin general postoffice and seriously affected rail and water transport as well as damaging great industrial plants over a wide area."

The information service said its statement was based on fresh information drawn from "reliable neutral sources."

The ministry's review of the RAF's achievements was issued after a night during which the offensive against Germany was suspended "owing to unfavorable weather conditions."

FLAMES IN BERLIN

The news service summary said "fire started by RAF bombers during an attack on the Lehrter railway staion (in Berlin) apparently burned for many hours and smoke from it covered a large area of the capital."

"One traveller, setting out from Berlin for a town in the Rhineland, had to spend three days instead of the customary 12 hours on the journey," it declared.

On the Mitteland canal traffic "was interrupted for five days after the destruction of two sluice gates," and on the Dortmund-Ems canal "the east wall immediately north of the old aqueduct has been broken," said the service.

DAMAGE AT HAMBURG

"At Hamburg," the news service said, "five ships are said to have been sunk in the harbors during one raid. At the time this news was gathered only seven out of the 75 cranes on the quay were working."

The news service added:

"Confirmation has been received of damage done to petrol and synthetic oil plants at Politz near Stettin."

At Bitterfeld large aluminum works "were closed for some weeks after a heavy raid," it said, and "in the Rhineland the Westphalia electric works have been so badly damaged that it will be some time before they come into full operation again."

At Bremen the output of the Duetz motor car factory "has been greatly reduced by bombs" and at Wismar "one hangar was completely gutted and all aircraft inside destroyed," the service reported.

BATTLE SIDESHOW—There's not much time between air raids in Britain these days, but what little time there is, is spent by the defense forces in entertaining themselves in the best way possible. Here, men of the Royal Scots group about a ring . . . to watch two of their number stage a battle of their own.

NAZI RAIDERS BACK; BRITAIN SHIFTS NAVY COMMANDERS

LONDON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Invisible in the clouds over London, a number of raiding planes were heard this afternoon after sirens signalled the first alarm of the day.

The weather, clouds here and a blackout fog on the English Channel, had curtained both British and German air operations.

Britain made two significant changes in the Royal Navy command today and talked of "hurrying" new, secret planes into action against the Nazis to increase the punch of her air arm on defense and offense.

Vice-Admiral John C. (Jack) Tovey, a destroyer expert and a hero of Jutland, took command of the home fleet, a step generally interpreted as a forerunner of intensified sea warfare.

Admiral Sir Henry H. Harwood, hero of the battle of the River Plate, was promoted to the post of lord commissioner of the admiralty and assistant chief of naval staff.

The London press regarded both appointments as highly important.

German raiders, adopting the new technique of attacking in dozens of small groups of fighter-bombers, meanwhile subjected the London area to its longest night attack since the start of the aerial blitzkrieg.

Nazi Bomb Toll 17,569 Civilians in September

LONDON, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Ministry of Home Security announced today that during September 6954 civilians were killed and 10,615 seriously injured in air raids on the United Kingdom.

The ministry said classified returns, so far as received, were divided thus:

1920 men killed, 4178 seriously injured.

2210 women killed, 3629 seriously injured.

694 children under 16 killed, 675 seriously injured.

Of the remaining 2130 killed 1157 were males and 973 were females. Of the remaining 2133 seriously injured 1231 were males and 902 females.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill announced in Commons Oct. 8 that British civilian casualties of the war up to Oct. 5 were 8500 killed and 13,000 injured.

ARRESTS SOLVE THEFTS

Thefts of more than a dozen cars in South Boston in the past two months were believed solved today with arrest of two Brighton boys and a South Boston youth, who allegedly confessed they took the machines for joy rides.

G-Men Trail Backers Of Draft-Dodge Plot

An organization whose object was to promote defiance to the draft law under the cloak of sincere groups of conscientious objectors has been in operation for the past seven weeks, it was learned today by the Boston Evening American.

Department of Justice officials have investigated leaders of this body as paid promoters subject to the drastic penalties for such actions.

U. S. Atty. Edmund J. Brandon would not discuss this subject but he did admit he and other federal prosecutors throughout the country had been schooled in the procedure they would follow.

First inkling of the organized move to defy the law came when copies of a pamphlet, "YOU DON'T HAVE TO REGISTER," fell into the hands of G-men.

PASTORS FORM GROUP

For three weeks they have centered their probe in Belmont and North Cambridge, seeking the printing press which published it.

In the course of this investigation it was disclosed that an "advisory committee for conscientious objectors" had been formed by clergymen in Greater Boston, but these apparently had no connection with the group under fire.

Many Harvard students are already enrolled in the membership of the "Conscientious Objectors" organization.

The advisory committee, however, has pointed out from its beginning that it was the duty of every eligible man to register, then raise his objections to service in the questionnaire he will receive.

Persons seeking advice at the Joy st., Beacon Hill, office of this committee were given that information today.

SEE MANY OBJECTORS

George A. Selleck of Longfellow pk., Cambridge, executive secretary of the Society of Friends—Quakers—a member of the advisory committee, predicted that the number of sincere conscientious objectors to military service would far exceed those in the last World War.

"Educational church peace programs in recent years account for that," he said.

WELLESL AIDE

Wellesley is represented by the Rev. Everett Moore Baker, Unitarian; Brookline by the Rev. Donald G. Lothrop. Also on the committee are the Rev. Douglas Frazier, Universalist, of Malden, and the Rev. Wilmer J. Kitchen of Sharon.

None of these clergymen knew anything about the group which published the pamphlet advising men not to register. Their advice was to the exact contrary.

Mr. Selleck, stressing that point, remarked that the government had a "more liberal attitude" today in regard to conscientious objectors than it had in the last World War.

U. S. Atty. Brandon, it was learned, had received first notices from conscientious objectors, declaring they would not register, many weeks ago.

SERIAL NUMBERS NOW BEING SENT TO REGISTRANTS

Officials of scores of the 173 draft boards in local areas throughout Massachusetts were mailing registrants their serial numbers today as they waited word from Washington when the national drawing would be held.

Meanwhile, Secy. of War Stimson disclosed that the first quota, probably to be called on Nov. 18, would affect only 990 men in the Bay State, and an approximate 30,000 throughout the nation.

Total figures for Massachusetts were 494,582. For the country reports showed 16,654,000.

SEAMEN CONFUSED

There was considerable confusion today in Boston when a large number of fishermen and seamen on coastwise vessels, at sea on Registration Day, arrived here.

They knew that if they were in the eligible age classes of 21-35 they were required to register, but they didn't know where to do so and heir calls to City Hall and draft headquarters in the Back Bay left them still uninformed.

"Local draft boards are charged with the duty of registering those who are late with valid reason," Maj. David B. Weden of the State Selective Service offices explained.

This was a problem which would have to be ironed out by nightfall, since most of those on ships would have to leave port within the next 24 hours, but meanwhile a ruling was still in the air.

According to Secretary of War Stimson's estimate, approximately one in every 20 men who registered may be called into service within the next eight months.

Springing one definite surprise, Stimson declared that 18,000 of the men called up would be assigned directly to the elite corps of modern mechanized armies, the armored divisions.

At the same time, he said that the remaining units of the National Guard, numbering some 130,000 men in the nation, would be ordered up for duty by early February.

800,000 BY JUNE 15

Under the War Department plans, the first 800,000 selective service trainees will be in the army by June 15.

In preparation for the lottery at Washington which will decide who shall go and who shall stay at home, the State's 173 draft board officials were registering men between 21 and 36 who did not register Oct. 16.

POLICY OFLENIENCY

Faced with the problem of preparing a second list of 390 draftees by Jan. 3 to join the Bay State's first group of 990, the draft boards at the same time were at work on serial numbering for the national lottery expected between Oct. 26 and Nov. 2.

Officials intimated that the un-

Dad Hunted As Killer of Boy Cripple

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 18—A 33-year-old Scarboro typewriter repairman was being sought throughout the nation today following issuance of a warrant charging him with the murder of his 5-year-old crippled son at Scarboro on Aug. 15, 1937.

The warrant against the man, Norman C. Burgoyne, was issued by Portland Municipal Court Judge W. DeWolfe on Oct. 10, and its W. DeWolfe Oct. 10, and its existence was revealed today. The boy vanished on the alleged crime day.

While the government admits there is no corpus delicti, authorities have information the child's body was seen after he had disappeared.

Officers said they believed he was killed at his home and buried in the Waterboro woods; search last July was begun after a visit to Mrs. Marion Burgoyne to the office of Sheriff Henry E. Burnell.

A native of New Bedford, Mass., Burgoyne is believed to have gone West. His wife lives in South Portland.

Locations of the 114 headquarters of Massachusetts' 173 local draft boards are printed on page 50. Another important article will be found on Page 20.

BONNIE BAKER, BABY-VOICED SINGER
Texas Lass to Marry Her Boss

BONNIE TO MARRY HER BAND LEADER

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor, International News Service

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 18 (INS)—Orrin Tucker, the famed band leader, was out shopping today for an engagement ring for wee Bonnie Baker, who made the "Oh Johnny" song a national classic.

No one ever knew whether Bonnie was his heart beat or just his leading lady. In fact, he says he didn't know it himself until they made the picture "You're One" for Jene Markey at Paramount.

Orrin Tucker

Seems they had twelve takes on a love scene and the final one "took" not only for the screen but in real life as well. They will be married as soon as they finish "You're The One," which should be in about six weeks.

Bonnie Baker, whose name is a household word, sang her way to fame with Orrin Tucker's orchestra. Her records are as popular as any made and when I saw her first at the Mark Hopkins in San Francisco, you couldn't get into the supper room, so great was her popularity.

The same thing was true at the Palmer House in Chicago, where she and Orrin Tucker did "sold out" business every night.

There have been rumors that the petite, dark-eyed girl with the tiny voice and the winning personality was Tucker's best girl but no one was ever sure until today.

They are now telling the world they love each other and are counting the days until Bonnie becomes the orchestra leader's bride.

Little Bonnie is set to be a screen sensation. She photographs well and she sings some of those songs on the screen that have given her such popularity.

SWALLOWS PIN—Attempting to open a safety pin with his teeth, 18-months-old Joseph Hurley of South Boston failed, but succeeded in swallowing it. City Hospital doctors reported him in no danger and his parents took him home.

19 WIVES GRANTED SUFFOLK DIVORCES

In one of the busiest sessions of Suffolk divorce court, 19 wives and one husband were granted divorces today by Judge John V. Mahoney. Wife after wife, some of them mothers of three and four children, said her troubles began when her husband began staying out all night.

Mrs. Mildred Lavenia of Tremont st., South End, complained that when she asked her husband, Alfred, where he had been nights he did not come home," he slapped her.

The question was answered for her, she said, when she followed him to Lawrence one night and found him with another woman. Subsequently, she said, he was arrested for polygamy.

Mrs. Helen Jacobson of Roxbury, mother of three children, was given her freedom from her husband, Nich, when she, too, explained her husband stayed out nights.

"On Christmas, 1937, he gave the children no presents," she said. "We had no clothes, nothing. We were almost penniless."

A friend, Mrs. Mary Hustin, said that Kenneth Hain of Vernon pl., Roxbury, used his wife, Florence, "like a football."

"At least that's what it sounded like to us," she said. "We lived downstairs. Once my son had to prevent Mrs. Hain from jumping out a window when she said she wanted to end it all."

Her husband, Ralph Hidecker, used to tell her that he was away on business when he would not come home for three or four days, Mrs. Lena M. Hidecker of Nahant ave., Revere, testified.

When neighbors, however, told her that he had a girl, she confronted him with that accusation and he said:

"Yes, I have, and I like her. Who's going to leave here, you or me?"

Frederick R. Wilson of Irvington st., Back Bay, was given freedom from Winifred Wilson when he said he told her in 1934 that he would have to move into Boston from their home in Waltham so he could be near his work at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

"She didn't want to," he said. "So when I moved into Boston, she moved somewhere else. I haven't seen her since."

Mrs. Mary B. Garrity of Columbia rd., Dorchester, said she married Augustus Garrity in 1931 and that the first few years of married life were delightful.

"Then he began to take my father's car and stay out all night. That disturbed me so much that I got heart trouble."

"There's always heart trouble in this business," said Judge Mahoney, granting her a divorce. "There's heart trouble before you're married—a different kind—and then, afterwards, more heart trouble."

Ex-Fiancee Aids Police Theft Case Against Youth

An August romance on Cape Cod, in which a young man of fashionplate appearance and having a streamlined car wooed and won a New York girl, only to lose her when her parents forbade their marriage, was revealed today in Roxbury court.

The losing Romeo was John J. Sullivan, 29, of Lithgow st., Dorchester. He was arraigned and pleaded not guilty to charges of receiving stolen spark plugs, allegedly from a Bridgeport, Ct., firm.

Prior to arraignment, Sullivan was placed in a police lineup and identified by a girl from Flushing, N. Y., as the man she had been engaged to and was to have married Oct. 5.

The girl told police Sullivan had wooed her during an August vacation on Cape Cod, but that her parents forced her to break the plighted troth.

She said that while being driven in the young man's streamlined car, she had noticed a number of spark plugs on several occasions.

Judge Frankland W. L. Miles held Sullivan in $500 bail and continued the case to Oct. 30 for further investigation. Brockton police were said to want Sullivan for questioning in connection with the theft of spark plugs.

Eat and Grow Thin on New Food Formula

You may have all the muscles of "Popeye" eating the spinach; and, girls, you may diet to your heart's content, and still eat all the food you need.

If you don't believe it listen to what Dr. Robert S. Harris, associate professor of bio-chemistry, has to say about his new concentrated food, of which just 20 grams is a day's sufficiency.

In case you are in doubt as to the size of 20 gram it is just a few tablespoonfuls.

In case you don't think you will get enough to eat, just take the word of Prof. Harris and his fellow experimenters who for months have worked to perfect the new concentrated food.

At last their efforts are rewarded with a successful blending of foods which in a few tablespoons will give you the muscle building power of a thick sirloin.

NO DANGER

Girls who have heretofore tried their slimming diets with ill effects may now swallow a few mouthfuls of the new concentrate and lose pounds and pounds, without endangering their health.

Why? Well, because the new food contains the vitamins necessary to carry on the body's normal functions. That is why armies are interested. What was true in Napoleon's day is still an army maxim:

"An army travels on its stomach."

The importance of Professor Harris' discovery is not only a matter for dieting girls, or hungry armies. It is also of vast importance to almost one third of the families in this country who have been living on sub-diets because they have not the money to eat properly.

LIKE CEREAL

A Boston Evening American reporter tried the new food. It tastes something like a certain popular breakfast food, a little flat, perhaps.

"Oh, that's all right," said the Tech expert. "We can flavor it to any adult taste."

"Could a man live on this alone?" he was asked.

"Certainly," said the expert, "But he would probably have pangs in his stomach."

"Aha," thought the reporter. "Here comes the hitch. What does that mean, doctor?"

"Well, there are two kinds of hunger. There is the pain in the tummy hunger when it is empty. There is the hidden hunger which a person may have even although the stomach may be filled.

"You might eat your daily 20 grams of this food and still be stomach hungry. But the hidden hunger, the important hunger, would be taken care of.

"The hunger pang tells you your stomach is empty. The victim of hidden hunger is not aware of it until he suffers from a protein deficiency disease."

$1.80 PER YEAR!

In other words, the Tech expert and his associates have succeeded in putting together a number of cereals which have the protein, or muscle-building qualities of eggs, meat and milk, and at a cost so much cheaper as to be almost incredible. A year's supply costs $1.80!

The United States government is interested. Other governments are interested and when word reaches Hollywood and other beauty centers you may be sure the girls will be interested.

Postmaster Waits Embezzlement Trial

His four-year term as postmaster at Spencer ended, John J. Nolan today awaited trial in $10,000 bail on federal charges he took $2065 in government funds for his own use.

Assistant U. S. Atty. Jackson J. Holtz, in asking high bail, declared investigators have already discovered more than $7000 is missing and that additional complaints will be sought.

7 Convicts Sit On Prison Roof

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 18 (AP) —Seven convicts of St. Vincent De Paul Penitentiary perched on the roof of the prison chapel in an unexplained sitdown today after having maintained their chilly vigil for more than 12 hours. Prison officials had removed the ladder and redoubled the guard but awaited word from Ottawa before taking further action.

Clad only in thin prison garments, the men suffered from the cold. At one time they huddled about a small blaze from the jacket of one man who took it off and set it afire. At times the men sang and danced.

The inmates rushed to a scaffolding being used by other convicts to repair the roof when work in the prison yard was stopped yesterday afternoon. They appeared to have little chance of escape. The outer prison wall is 30 feet away.

LaGuardia Hub Speaker Tonight

Another colorful highlight in the Roosevelt-Willkie battle, New York City's Mayor Florella H. LaGuardia was headed for Boston and a rally tonight at Tremont Temple, where preparations were being made for an overflow crowd.

Mayor Tobin and young John Roosevelt were part of a reception committee scheduled to meet LaGuardia at the Boston Airport this afternoon.

LaGuardia, close friend of President Roosevelt and American chairman of the Canadian-American Joint Defense Board, will deliver the third of a series of pro-Roosevelt addresses here under sponsorship of the Independent Voters Committee for Roosevelt and Wallace. The speech will be broadcast from 9:30 to 10 p. m.

Man's Car in Wife's Name So Judge Acts

Incensed at a Dorchester husband who registered his car in his wife's name and sent her to court to answer 10 parking summonses, Judge Elijah Adlow today put the wife on probation, ordered the husband charged with illegal registration of an auto, and recommended that his registration be revoked.

Putting a person on probation who is guilty merely of the misdemeanor of parking an automobile illegally is unusual, since it means the woman must report to a probation officer every week during the term of her probation—six months in this case.

The far-reaching action began when Mrs. Gladys Grew of Clarkson st., Dorchester, until recently of Brookvale rd., Brighton, appeared before Judge Adlow in Boston Municipal court with a sheaf of summonses in her hand.

JUDGETAKES HAND

Judge Adlow began to dispose of the cases one by one, imposing a $2 fine each until he had run up $8, and then had six summonses to go.

"I'm going to make the rest of these fines heavier," he announced.

Addressing Mrs. Grew he said:

"Have you the money to pay them?"

The modestly dressed woman, who described herself as a housewife and her husband, Everett Grew, as being in the milk business, shook her head.

"Then that won't do any good," Judge Adlow said. "Does this car belong to you or your husband?" he asked.

"My husband," said Mrs. Grew.

"You mean its really his car he gets 10 parking tags and sends you in to take the rap?" asked Judge Adlow.

PLACED ON PROBATION

Mrs. Grew did not reply.

"I'm going to put a stop to this habit of husbands registering their cars in their wives' names," Judge Adlow announced.

He then called to the bench Officer Thomas Kennedy, special prosecutor for traffic cases.

"I want you to notify the registrar of this situation immediately," Judge Adlow continued. "I recommend that this man's registration be revoked. He's a pretty foxy fellow, but he's not going to get away with this.

"If I let him have his wife take the rap for his tickets, I ought to call back every person I ever fined in this court on a tag case and give them their money back. I want you to make a complaint charging him with illegally registering a car.

"Mrs. Grew, I revoke the fines on you and place you on probation for six months."

JEHOVAH 'SHOT IN DEFENSE'

ALFRED, Me., Oct. 18 (AP)—Defending himself and four other Jehovah's Witnesses against charges of assault with intent to kill, Edwin E. Bobb, Kennebunk, told a superior court jury here today that they had acted only to protect life and property.

Charges evolved from the June 9 gunfire wounding of Dwight Robinson and Frederick McDonald, 33, both of Kennebunk, in front of the Witness' "Kingdom Hall" headquarters in that town. The structure later was burned by a mob.

Bobb testified that he saw three men pull up in a car in front of the building at about 2:30 a. m. on the morning of June 9, and heard one of them say:

"Let's finish these damned Jehovahs tonight."

After the men disregarded a "stop or we'll shoot" command from one of the witnesses, according to Bobb's testimony, the witnesses fired. Bobb admitted he had fired a shotgun but denied he had any intent to kill.

Rough Stuff goes places this Fall

HERE IT IS—tweed at its best. Rich shetlands that look like ready money. Geared to put bounce in your step, without taking the bounce from your bankroll. At BOND'S, of course!

Want a "calling card" that'll get you past the toughest private secretary? Wear a Bond Kirkstone Tweed—and notice the difference. Here's "Rough Stuff" with that smooth approach so important to success. A vigorous, expensive-looking weave—favorite with men who get the big orders, and give them. Thirty dollars does the trick, at Bond's!

"We want a touchdown"—and another derby bites the dust. Between halves, steal a look at your well-dressed neighbors. "Rough Stuff" will head your scorecard—10 to 1. Lusty shetlands, wide herringbones, jaunty cheviots—all-stars with a punch! And by no mere coincidence, the identical line-up you'll see this week in Bond's windows.

Let's go stepping. "Rough Stuff" is right there with that same well-pressed nonchalance you saw in your mirror this morning. This is no "sissy suit"—that needs rest periods to keep it in good shape. You can wear it 'round the clock—with admiring glances from "that sweet young thing", every hour on the hour. Try it and see.

Ex-Wives Cut in Tom Mix Will

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 18 (INS)—Tom Mix, in his will, bequeathed "my faithful horse and pal, Tony," the horse on which he rode to success and wealth in the movies, "to my treasured friend, Ivan D. Parker," the actor's attorney.

The will divided the Western star's estate equally between his present wife, Mabel Ward Mix, and one of his two daughters, Thomasina Mix, daughter of a former wife. But it disinherited his four former wives and another daughter, Ruth Mix Knight.

The exact amount of the estate was unknown. But it was estimated it would be substantial.

F. D. Death Threat Charged to Hitlerite

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (INS)—Edward de Roulhac Blount, 30, reputed admirer of Adolf Hitler and an employe of the Census Bureau, pleaded guilty of openly threatening the life of President Roosevelt, when arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Needham C. Turnage here.

After he had been released on $1500 bond, the bond was later raised to $5000 on orders from Dist. Atty. Edward M. Curran.

PROPAGANDA FOUND

Secret service agents, who arrested Blount aboard his father's yacht, were reported to have discovered Nazi propaganda and copies of Hitler's Danzig speech in Blount's possession. Blount sent to Hitler cables of congratulation on his last two birthdays, federal agents said.

The complaint against Blount was signed by Mandeville C. Frost, a secret federal service agent. Federal agents had been trailing Blount for several weeks, beginning when they had received reports he had told several persons he would take the President's life.

TO FIGHT CASE

James F. Reilly, Blount's attorney, said he would fight the case, despite the guilty plea before the commissioner, if an indictment is returned. Conviction on the charge carries a maximum penalty of a $1000 fine and five years in prison.

Blount lives with his father, Walter E. Blount, socially-prominent mining executive, on the latter's yacht, "Sunshine," which is anchored in the Washington channel. The vessel was said to have cost $89,000. Blount's father once government lawyer, said he had bought the yacht because he considered rent for an apartment was too high

2 Blasts Wreck Newspaper Shop

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18 (AP)—Two explosions, which Detective William Martucci said apparently were caused by "incendiary bombs," today wrecked a two-story brick building where several Italian language newspapers are printed.

Fire quickly followed the blasts. The flames swept through the structure into an adjoining plant.

The building is owned by the Metropolis Printing Co. Amondo Forte, owner of the plant, said he could give no immediate explanation of the blasts.

Among the newspapers printed in the plant is the daily Il Popolo Italiano.

Firecrackers Start Subway Bomb Scare

Thousands of persons on their way to work today, war-conscious after draft registration, were alarmed at appearance of 100 police a score of attendants and numerous firemen in Washington st. station of the Ashmont-Cambridge subway.

Some youths on their way to school had tossed two large firecrackers from one of the subway trains and an excited citizen telephoned first fire headquarters, then City Hospital, finally the police.

"A bomb has exploded in the subway," he said.

Within ten minutes, three more fire alarms were sounded from downtown boxes, adding to the confusion at the peak of the morning traffic rush.

There was no one injured in the firecracker explosion. No. 2 alarm was for a $10 fire in "Billy's Lunch" in Bedford st. No. 3 alarm was false, from the box at Washington and Boylston sts. No. 4 was an auxiliary fire department call from Summer and Devonshire sts.

WILLKIE SAYS HE'LL NEVER TRADE BREAD FOR VOTES

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN IN MISSOURI OCT. 18 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie, standing before a weather-worn statue of Thomas Jefferson, today called himself a "political amateur at taking relief money and forcing men to vote because the government fulfills a social obligation in keeping them from starving."

"Wendell Willkie will never trade bread for votes from those who can least afford to demand independence," the Republican presidential nominee told a crowd in front of the Missouri capitol in Jefferson City.

"I do not know how to sit down in dark rooms with Frank Hague and the Kelly-Nashes of Chicago," he said. "I do not know anything about the stealing of votes x x x about making lofty speeches over the radio."

Willkie said he could never "engage in duplicity, in poses in the creation of imaginary emergencies."

CALLS SELF AMATEUR

"I know nothing about how to seek to control men's votes as Representatives or Senators in Congress," he said, "by throwing the full force of the patronage and power of the presidency against them in order to defeat them if they do not become mice instead of men."

The Republican nominee made no reference to a previously prepared text.

Saying he was a believer in the constitutional system, the candidate added that he would "never by stealth, by indirection seek to destroy the power" of the legislative and judicial branches of government.

"I know nothing about drafting pamphlets that seek to smear," he continued. "I know nothing about making up pictures that seek to divide us into classes and racial groups.

"Won't you all—like me or dislike me—proclaim to everybody you see: Here is a political amateur?"

LAUDS JEFFERSON

Willkie paid tribute to Jefferson caying th ecountry now should follow two of his "eternal principles" —" alimitation on the power and continuation in office of the chief executive."

"He had another belief," Willkie said, "that every man in America, no matter from where his ancestors came, perhaps even if they were among those sturdy Germans who came fleeing from oppression to Missouri—they still were entitled to the right of citizenry."

Jefferson believed, too, Willkie declared, that there should be no racial or religious prejudice.

"Your ancestors who had the courage to stand up against tyranny in the Old World and find a haven of liberty here," he said, "believed that here you and your children could aspire to freedom, untouched by anybody except the smear group of the Democratic National Committee."

Behind Willkie, in nearly every window of the Capitol, were pictures of President Roosevelt. The state administration is Democratic

F. D. Hits 'Falsifying of Facts'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—President Roosevelt charged to his 1940 campaign opposition today "a systematic program" of "deliberate flasification of fact" and said he would discuss "these misrepresentations" in five pre-election speeches.

In a statement read to his press conference, Mr. Roosevelt stated his opinion that the "falsification of fact" was "deliberate" rather than "unwitting" and said he would "tell the American people in what respect they are false."

Reporters were told, however, to wait for the addresses to learn what he considered "misrepresentations."

HIS 5 ADDRESS DATES

Dates announced in New York for his speeches were:

Oct. 23, Convention Hall, Philadelphia; Oct. 24, Madison Square Garden, New York; Oct. 30, Constitution Hall, Washington; Nov. 2, Public Auditorium, Cleveland, and Nov. 4, Hyde Park.

There is a possibility, the Democratic nominee said, that one of the five addresses, scheduled for Washington on Oct. 30, might be shifted to Baltimore.

Newsmen told him that the change would put him in Baltimore the same day that Wendell L. Willkie is scheduled to speak there.

The President said that was good.

The President volunteered the information to reporters that for the benefit of certain peoples' ethics the trips on which he will speak would be paid for, obviously, by the Democratic National Committee, although he said some of them would include additional inspections of defense works in the vicinity of the points where the addresses were scheduled.

PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT

The statement read by the President said:

"In the speech of acceptance to the Democratic convention on July 19, 1940, the President said:

"'I shall not have the time or the inclination to engage in any purely political debate. But I shall never be loath to call the attention of the nation to deliberate or unwitting falsifications of fact.'

"There has been in this campaign, however, a systematic program of falsification of fact by the opposition. The President does not believe that it has been an unwitting falsification of fact. He believes it is a deliberate falsification of fact.

"He has, therefore, decided to tell the American people what these misrepresentations have been and in what respect they are false.

"With that purpose in mind, the President will make five speeches between now and election day."

Army Service to Place Draftee In Niche to Which He Is Fitted

This article, "Your Army Duties", is No. 6 in the series "E-DAY and You!" explaining the Selective Service Act. Back copies of papers containing previous articles may be secured at the Circulation Dept., 6 Winthrop sq., Boston.

By JAMES DOOLING

Some things have changed in the Army since the first draftees of the last World War were called into service, but the Man of 1940 will find the traditional "school of the soldier" much the same as his predecessor did two decades ago.

Squads now number a dozen men instead of eight. The rifle drill the rookie recalls from high school cadet days may be different. But, essentially, routine is the same as it always was.

At Fort Devens, reception center for this area, the men inducted into service will be classified, given another physical examination and mental tests, and if finally accepted, their new life begins. About seven weeks of it will be schooling in the fundamentals.

CHECK REPORTS

First step at the reception center will be to check carefully all the papers and reports that make up the new soldier's military record to avoid any later mixup on similar names and insure the recruit getting his proper pay, insurance protection and similar rights.

Classification now is an entirely different process than it was back home when you were still a civilian registrant.

Officials have a pretty fair idea of your previous history, training and abilities from the questionnaire you filled out before you were called, but at this point they are out to determine exactly what should be done with you—in what branch of the service you fit best.

Probably half a dozen men in a group of a hundred may disclose that they are A-1 material, regardless of previous education. Others will fall into various classes down to the ones of markedly inferior intelligence. These last must either be sent home or given strictly manual labor assignments.

The draftee, when the time comes to be interviewed for his occupational classification, should be prepared to tell clearly what he can do best, second best and what hobbies he has.

Officials advise prospective draftees to remember one thing—to be truthful in all answers.

RESPECT FOR SUPERIORS

It will do a man no good to boast that he is skilled in a trade or calling if he can't prove it.

The rookie will notice how officers are treated—with the respect to which their position entitles them. Obviously the leader must be one whose directions are followed without question.

That is lesson No. 1 for the recruit. He salutes, follows certain forms of procedure and learns to obey instinctively, not because the man with the chevrons or bars is "better" than he but because that man is his military superior.

In time of war that instinctive habit of obedience wins battles. The salute is the symbol of the willingness to obey.

In his year of service, for which he will get a minmum of $21 a month for the first four months and $30 a month afterward, the new soldier will have many opportunities to better himself. These will be explained in a subsequent article.

Up at 5:45 a. m. Four hours of drill or lectures in the morning and four hours or so in the afternoon. Plenty of marching to harden up his muscles. Good solid food and lots of it. He will have leisure at night, but must be abed at 11 p. m.

After seven weeks' training in camp, when his muscles are hardened up, the rookie will get a taste of a sterner life.

By this time the soldier will probably amaze himself by his powers of endurance.

He suddenly discovers he likes this life

(Tomorrow, "Your Army Opportunities," final article of this series, will appear.)

990 BAY STATERS IN 1ST DRAFT CALL

official policy for the next few days would be to register and not prosecute those who failed to register on Wednesday—if they did not deliberately seek to evade their duty and if excuses, such as illness, were fairly reasonable.

With two Boston clergymen indicted by the Federal Grand Jury less than 24 hours after they had refused to register, U. S. Dist. Atty. Edmund J. Brandon emphasized that provision of the law makes it a felony "in the cases of persons refusing to register or wilfully neglecting to register."

FACE STIFF PENALTY

Brandon state dhis office has definite and uniform methods for all such cases, but that he was "not at liberty at the moment to spell out the form of action or the steps to be pursued."

Announcing they were conscientious objectors, the two clergymen, Rev. Harry H. Kruener, 24, minister of the First Babtist Church of Boston, and Rev. Keith C. Kanaga, 25, assistant pastor of Mt. Vernon Congiecational Church, face a possible penalty of a $10,000 fine, five years in jail, or both, if convicted, Brandon said.

The indictments against the two clergymen charged violation of Sec. 2, Chap. 720 of the 76th Congress' Selective Service Act of 1940.

MANY PHONE CALLS

The two clergymen were unsuccessful in an attempt to leave copies of affidavits explaining their stand with Chief Registrar Ernest W. Anderson, master of the school, but presented them to reporters.

Meantime, Maj. David B. Weeden of Massachusetts selective service headquarters said that his office had been "swamped" with telephone calls from men who stated they had failed to register because they were ill or traveling. They were instructed to register immediately with local boards, with the understanding that if they did so, no official action would be taken against them.

Officials pointed out that the number of deliberate draft dodgers was believed to be small, although reports from other states showed several instances of refusal to register because of conscientious objections.

LISTINGS FALL SHORT

There were 494,582 men registered in Massachusetts as compared with the estimate of 650,000 based on population.

In Boston only 93,236 were listed instead of the 125,000 up who were expected to sign.

Similar discrepancies were reported from other New England states, the Connecticut registration being 225,725 as against an anticipated 250,00. Rhode Island listed 84,481 and Maine, with 50 small communities unreported, 91,750 compared with estimates of approximately 100,000 each. Vermont's final figure of 39,894 came close to the expected 42,000, but New Hampshire listed only 55,333 as compared to the estimated 75,000.

At the same time national headquarters at Washington reported a country wide registration of nearly 17,000,000 men, or about 2 per cent more than the anticipated number. These figures were based on returns from 10 states and the District of Columbia, it was stated.

Draft Call Dates Given

Here is the program, which includes dates and the number of draft trainees, to be followed by the War Department in calling men for military service:

First contingent, 30,000 men, on or about Nov. 18; Dec. 2, 60,000; Jan. 3, 60,000; Jan. 15, 90,000; Feb. 10, 160,000; March 3, 200,000; June 15, 200,000.

SEA OTTER CAPE UP FOR SALE---IT'S ONLY $75,000

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Oct. 18 (AP)—W. S. Brackett may sell his sea otter cape—the State Attorney-General says—although state and federal laws prohibit possession of sea otter pelts. All he has to do is to find someone willing to pay him $75,000—the value fixed by a London furrier.

Brackett received the cape as an heirloom from his mother, who obtained it at Newton, Mass., 60 years ago, before enactment of the prohibitory laws. The cape is three feet long with a sweep of 116 inches.

Woman Can't Collect $900, Charges Finery

Inability to collect $900 owed her for services as a secretary-teacher at an exclusive North Shore school led Mrs. Florence Todd, 29, to charge more than $50 worth of clothing to a Boston minister connected with the school, she testified in Municipal court today.

After hearing the cultured, well-groomed woman, who said she was graduate of Cornell, testify she had intended to repay the minister Judge Elijah Adlow placed her on probation with the understanding she was to go to Pennsylvania to live with her grandfather.

Police investigators, who charged Mrs. Todd with larceny from the store, testified she allegedly ordered the goods and had them delivered to a downtown hotel.

When questioned as to why she charged the clothes the woman said she was without funds to buy much-needed fall apparel. She said all her attempts to collect the $900 were without success.

Detective-Inspector Mark Morrison and Sergt. James V. Crowley, both of headquarters, testified they investigated with the co-operation of John Heathcote, of a protective agency, and recovered the clothing in Mrs. Todd's room.

F. D. Speech Tour Draws Martin Fire

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (INS)—Republican National Chairman Joseph W. Martin, Jr., declared in a press conference today that the booking of President Roosevelt for five major political speeches "means that the New Deal is juttery" because of the upswing in public sentiment for Wendell L. Willkie.

"Radio charm and new promises can't beat back the Willkie tide," said Martin. "The people are tired of headline promises. They have been chasing rainbows for eight years."

Martin charged that many of the New Dealers believe that only by a war can the "awful mess" in this country be cleaned up.

"The people do not want war," Martin asserted. "That is why they are turning to Willkie. They want national security; they want jobs and they want peace."

The fact Mr. Roosevelt has selected Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York for three of his five campaign speeches plainly indicates the political trend in these states, according to Martin.

"The move also means," Martin continued, "that Mr. Roosevelt has abandoned the 'phony draft' issue and is fighting in the open for a third term. The people are not in a drafting mood so he takes to the hustings as an avowed candidate."

Martin sand his latest estimate is that Willkie will get 307 electoral votes.

Longshoreman Indicted in Death

An indictment charging David Goodman, 34-year-old longshoreman with the second degree murder of Mrs. Mary Stevenson, 59, housemaid in the Lynde st., West End, rooming house where he lived, was returned by the Suffolk County grand jury today.

Goodman was originally charged with first degree murder in the slaying of the maid with a tonic bottle following a scuffle over a bottle of liquor Sept. 1.

Police said that Goodman confessed that he attacked the woman with a bottle and inflicted the injuries from which she died. Her battered and partially clad body was found in Goodman's room.

Plea by Wife Fails To Free Check Forger

Despite the fervent plea of his wife for leniency and his own promise to make restitution, John A. Holland, 30, of Galen st., Watertown, was sentenced to jail today in Newton court, after pleading guilty to forging and passing $91.88 in checks.

On each of five counts of forgery and five counts of larceny, Holland was sentenced to three months in jail, all the terms to run concurrently.

Earl Carroll's Cafe Closed by Wage Row

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 18 (AP)—Earl Carroll's swank theater-restaurant was closed indefinitely today by a walkout of 75 waiters and kitchen employes.

Carroll refunded money to patrons last night, then gave a "closing out party" for the 300 other employes, musicians, showgirls, stagehands and cashiers. The waiters demanded an increase of $1 a day from the $2.50 they were receiving, Carroll said.

Brockton Woman Shot, Kin Hunted

BROCKTON, Oct. 18—Vict.m of a mysterious shooting in her home today, Mrs. Mary Venti, 44, of Mason st., is in critical condition at Brockton Hospital with a bullet wound in her neck, while police are searching for her brother-in-law, who disappeared after the shooting.

The relative being sought is Alaxander Venti, 40, who worked in the grocery store owned by Mrs. Vanti's husband, Amedio, near the Vanti home.

According to police, Alexander delivered an order of groceries at the Vanti home. Shortly afterward, Mrs. Vanti told police, he began cleaning at .38 calibre revolver, which she insisted was accidentally discharged.

The bullet passed through the woman's neck, missing the jugular vain by a fraction of an inch.

Mrs. Vanti staggered to the telephone and told her husband what had happened. He notified police.

Police Capt. Daniel T. Guerin and several officers visited the Vanti home and took the wounded woman to the hospital, where she made a statement declaring that the shooting was accidental.

Bund Curb Bill Signed by F. D.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (INS)—President Roosevelt today signed the Voorhis bill, designed to force registration by the German American Bund and the Communist party with the Attorney-General.

Organizations required to register include all groups subject to foreign control which engage in political or civilian military activity, or whose purpose is overthrow of the government by force or violence.

The President also signed the Overton moratorium bill for national guardsmen and draftees, which revises and expands the debt delay provision of the conscription act. The measure provides debts can be enforced against guardsmen and draftees only through court approval.

Special provisions were written into the measure covering installment buying.

A rivers and harbors bill authorizing improvements in the interests of national defense, estimated to cost more than $300,000,000, also was approved by the President.

GENERAL PERSHING REPORTED 'IN FINE SHAPE' AFTER HOSPITAL CHECKUP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—General John J. Pershing was described by aides today as "in fine shape" after a physical checkup at Walter Reed Hospital.

The World War commander, who was 80 last month, entered the hospital two weeks ago.

RAF Blocks Invasion, Big Nazi Loss Bared

cial of a conquered nation, who asked that his identity be withheld, said when he arrived Sept. 26 that German officers had told him practice maneuvers for invasion had cost the Germen 10,000 men.

Nine days earlier, the New York Sun said letters had been received in New York by French residents indicating the Nazis already had attempted to land forces in England.

These letters, the Sun said, related disastrous results for the German thrust, but gave few details. Some said that the German invading fleet put out from St. Malo with the West Coast of England as the goal.

One letter, said by the newspaper to have been written by a French official acting in liaison with the German army of occupation, said German officers were happy in Paris and that they especially hoped they would "not be chosen to participate in another disastrous attempt to disembark troops in England."

From other sources in New York came later stories of "practice invasions" having been made on the French "invasion coast."

BARED NAZI MUTINY

On Sept. 20, Capt. Carl Ter Weele, 37, a former Dutch artillery captain, told on his arrival from Europe that Nazi troops under training for English invasion were rebelling. Columns of mutineers were marched back to labor camps, their hands trussed behind their backs, he said.

Passengers on the American export liner Exeter, on which the Dutch captain sailed, said that morale of the German army had slumped perceptibly because of severe losses in life suffered in practice maneuvers looking to the invasion of Britain. They said British naval craft had blasted ships and barges which Germany had put into the English channel for "exercise maneuvers."

On Sept. 24, informed British military spokesmen in London refused to comment on dispatches from the French-Spanish border, published in the London Daily Mail, that Germany lost "between 50,000 and 60,000 picked troops" in a disaster of Sept. 16, when a channel gale scattered Adolf Hitler's "invasion fleet."

The assertions were made by Harold Cardozo, a special correspondent on the French-Spanish border. His story, in full, said:

"Hitler lost between 50,000 and 60,000 picked troops in a disaster which scattered his invasion fleet a week ago, it is learned here. They were victims of channel storms and merciless RAF bombardment.

"Because the German troops had already suffered heavy losses from British bombing, the Nazi high command decided to make new dispositions.

"The invasion fleet, consisting of thousands of barges and small vessels, was taken out of the ports and moored along the lonely Flanders coasts.

"Sunday (Sept. 15) saw the fleet ready for the cross-channel dash, but the terrific beating meted out to Nazi planes (185 were shot down in battles over Britain) held up the order to sail.

"Then on Monday, southwest gales swept the channel. The Flanders coast is notoriously dangerous at this season. It became a death trap.

"The German tugs tried desperately to get the barges to safety, but scores of them were overturned, drowning thousands of soldiers.

"Convoys of barges and tugs were moved to safe waters—to meet renewed bombing raids and more gales.

"They are still reorganizing."

JAPS BOMB BURMA ROAD CITY

HONGKONG, Oct. 18 (AP)—Headquarters of the Japanese South China fleet announced Japanese naval aircraft today attacked Kunming, southwestern China terminus of the newly reopened Burma Road. It was the first Japanese action connected with the Road's reopening.

Bombs were dropped on Chinese munitions factories in the suburbs and military establishments within the city, the communique said.

Japanese planes dived at the city, capital of Yunnan province, through gaps in heavy clouds and were unopposed by any Chinese planes.

Meanwhile an official announcement was made here that reopening of this British crown colony to the passage of petroleum products and railway material to China has been postponed indefinitely.

Colonial Secretary N. L. Smith had announced yesterday that the Hongkang route would be reopened to these goods at midnight last night simultaneously with the reopening of the Burma road, "back-door" supply route for Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese armies.

Hongkong was closed to petroleum and railway supply shipments to China last Jan. 1 and was closed to munitions shipments July 17.

A communique said that Smith had based his announcement on his interpretation of a telegram received from London, but that he now understands consideration is being given to the suggestion" that the Hongkong closure was not timed by the three months limit specified in the Burma road agreement.

Flood of Trucks Pours Supplies On Burma Road

RANGOON, Burma, Oct. 18 (AP)—The flood of traffic along the Burma road, reopened to arms shipments to China last night, rose steadily today as fleets of munitions trucks, long in readiness, moved into Chinese territory and northward from the railhead at Lashio toward the border.

A British army officer, veteran of the World War, said he had never seen a larger assemblage of trucks.

Burma's large Chinese population organized meetings and demonstrations to show their appreciation of Britain's decision to defy Japan and reopen the road.

Britain Plans Talk With Balkan Leaders

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Oct. 18 (AP)—Preparations for an important conference of British diplomatic representatives in the Balkan countries was reported afoot here today as the Turkish radio voiced new defiance to the axis powers and their aspirations in the East.

Word of the impending conference was circulated following the arrival in Istanbul of George W. Rendel, British minister to Bulgaria.

The British ministers to Yugoslavia and Greece expected to join Rendel and Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen, the British ambassador to Turkey, in the next few days.

Axis diplomatic activity, meanwhile, was reported from Athens by the official Turkish radio, which said Premier-Dictator John Metaxas of Greece had received the German and Italian ministers yesterday. There was no hint of the subject of their talk.

In Moscow the German ambassador, Count Friederich Werner von der Schulenburg, newly returned from Berlin, last night visited the Kremlin, where he was understood to have conferred with Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslaff Molotoff. The Turkish ambassador to Moscow, Haidar Aktay, was in conference with Molotoff Tuesday.—Editor's note.

The Turkish radio warned the Axis powers last night that if they attempted a drive across the Dardanelles to Egypt and the Suez they would find Turkey a tougher nut to crack than the Netherlands, Belgium or France.

The commentator recalled the resistance the Turks offered the British in the Dardanelles in the World War and added:

"There is no doubt our resistance this time will be even stronger. Just as we depend on our army, so our terrain also has a special advantage for us. For instance motorized troops can only move with difficulty here—and the Axis powers want a short war, not a long one."

The radio accused Germany and Italy of seeking to conquer Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Greece and said the Axis powers had warned Greece to reject Britain's guarantee of aid in certain conditions of attack or "she will be made to regret it."

Reports from Bucharest quoted German circles as saying that 150 Nazi warplanes, accompanied by 800 pilots, mechanics, crewmen and instructors were expected to arrive in Rumania today to augment a force of 150 planes already quartered there.—Editor's note.

Vichy Tightens Ban On Jews

VICHY, France, Oct. 18 (AP)—France followed the lead of most of Europe today, establishing strict anti-Jewish measures for the first time in her history.

Persons with three Jewish grandparents or with two Jewish grandparents and married to a Jew were excluded from all public administrations, from the press, the motion picture industry and radio, from holding an officer's rank in any branch of the armed forces, from working in the law courts in any other capacity than as a lawyer and from the colonial administration.

Unofficial estimates placed the number of Jewish citizens of France and the colonies at slightly more than 400,000. Estimates of the number of foreign Jews in France were slightly higher.

The only exceptions made to the rulings of the Petain government were for Jews who were decorated either in the wars of 1914 or 1939 or for Jews who "rendered distinguished services" in literary, artistic or scientific work.

Plane in Canterbury Attack Is Destroyed

CANTERBURY, England, Oct. 18 (AP)—One of the German Messerschmitts which yesterday attacked the 700-year-old Canterbury deanery was blown to pieces in midair when machine-gun bullets from an RAF fighter hit its bomb rack, it was disclosed today.

Dr. Hewlett Johnson, dean of Canterbury, said the "explosion rocked the deanery like a ship in a rough sea."

NAZIS CLAIM NAVY ROUT OFF BRISTOL

BERLIN, Oct. 18 (AP)—The German high command declared today, destroyers attacking a British cruiser protected by destroyers at the exit of Bristol channel, had scored a torpedo hit before the superior British force broke off the fight.

German claims of a naval engagement at the entrance of the Bristol channel were labelled "extremely fanciful" today by informed British government quarters in London.—Editor's note.

The German communique declared the destroyer force "scored a torpedo hit on one enemy warship. Thereupon the foe broke off the fight."

GERMAN SHIPS SAFE

After the naval action German planes "chased the enemy" and all the German destroyers returned undamaged to their bases, the Nazi command declared. The date of this fight was not given.

Probable destruction of a British submarine also was claimed. Off Le Havre a shore battery fired on the submarine and then German dive bombers roared to the attack.

"Strong detonations were heard and boat wreckage was brought to the surface so it is assumed the submarine was destroyed," said the communique.

CLAIM AIR VICTORIES

Two other actions of German shore batteries on occupied coasts were reported. In the first, said the communique, shore defenses forced back British speed boats which tried to approach Flanders. In the second a convoy in Dover harbor was shelled effectively by marine artillery.

The report said Britain's air losses yesterday were 17 planes against seven German planes missing.

In another naval action, it said, German speedboats last night sank two armed British merchantmen and two tankers totalling 33,000 tons.

CHINESE SHOOT JAP

SHANGHAI, Oct. 18 (AP)—A corporal of the Japanese gendarmes was shot in the head and wounded seriously today by three Chinese gunmen in the badlands near the headquarters of Wang Chi-Wei, head of the Japanese-sponsored government at Nanking.

Nazis Battle Sabotage

BRUSSELS (Via Berlin), Oct. 18 (AP)—A fine of 3,000,000 francs (approximately $100,000) payable Nov. 1, has been levied by German authorities on the Dison district in Liege province for alleged acts of sabotage, reportedly on the increase throughout Belgium with the return of many refugees from France.

War prisoners in the Dison area who were released several weeks ago were ordered rearrested because five German military telephones were found cut.

Military cables also were reported damaged at Waterloo. The burgomaster there directed all men of the community between 18 and 35 years of age to maintain a night watch to prevent further damage.

At Florence and Philippeville in Namur province near the French border 17 former Belgian war prisoners were placed under arrest after more than 40 had been picked up for questioning.

German authorities introduced more stringent measures to avert sabotage, which is punishable by death.

Uncle Sam's First Line

While draft registration points millions toward the U. S. Meanwhile, naval reservists are called to duty . . . and volunteers by the thousand are taught the seaman-fighter's job. Four pictures help to tell the story of M. I. T. scientist Dr. Robert S. Harris and his successful solution of an all-purpose food at low prices. With aides, Dr. Harris produced a concentrate that contains all the vitamins needed to life and health, with the exception of Vitamin C, which could be supplied with a mouthful of tomato juice. It was seen as a solution of Great Britain's nutrition problem, because a year's supply per person costs only $1.87. Disclosure of the concentrated food was made at the 77th meeting of the Forsyth Dental Infirmary.

MR. LAURENCE SULLIVAN has just laid before the American people in his book, thoughtfully entitled "The Dead Hand of Bureaucracy," the greatest indictment of the Roosevelt Administration's multiplication of offices and its injurious consequences that has yet been made.

Based on tables and incontrovertible facts and figures, Mr. Sullivan shows us:

1—That the average family in the United States PAYS MORE IN TAXES THAN FOR HOUSE RENT.

2—That President Roosevelt issued two thousand, five hundred and thirty-eight executive orders in seven years.

3—That the CWA and the WPA have built more than one thousand airports, ONLY THIRTY-ONE of which are large enough to land military craft.

4—That every month the United States Treasury sends checks to more than TWELVE MILLION individuals.

5—That one hundred and twenty-four new Federal boards, bureaus and commissions have been established in Washington since 1933.

6—That the WPA spent the impressive sum of five hundred, ninety-nine thousand, eight hundred and fifty-six dollars on a RAT-CATCHING PROJECT in New Orleans.

7—That at one time eleven WPA units in New York City shared office space with Communist organizations.

8—That, among other things, a Federal agency offers a bulletin entitled "Where Bed Sheets Wear Out."

9—That the public debt of the United States constitutes a hidden mortgage of FORTY PER CENT on the average American home.

10—That the New Deal campaign against private enterprise has produced in seven years a shortage of TWENTY-ONE BILLION DOLLARS in new corporate investments in the United States.

All these ills, all these absurdities, all these ghastly stupidities can be traced to one source—THE DESIRE TO MULTIPLY OFFICES FOR POLITICAL REWARD.

Mr. Sullivan refers to it as a "dead hand"—a dead hand that weighs on pocketbooks, on business, on personal initiative and on the American way.

It is the selfsame reaching out for power that has made millions of people pawns and wards of bureaucratic governments in the slave states of Europe.

NEW ENGLAND DAYS challenge all residents in our six States to get together and work together for the common good.

The observance is inspired by the philosophy that prompted the ancient Greeks to say, "the gods help those who help themselves."

When we buy the products of our own farms, factories and industries from our own merchants we encourage other people in other parts of the country to buy these products, too.

Actually, we are one of the most self-sufficient sections in the entire world.

Within five hundred miles of the center of New England are found 39 per cent of the population of the United States, 40 per cent of all manufacturing plants, 54 per cent of the nation's industrial wages and salaries, 63 per cent of the sources of United States income taxes and 70 per cent of the total savings deposits.

Last year, during New England days, our fifteen thousand retail stores moved twelve million dollars' worth of New England goods into consumption.

This year the amount should exceed FIFTEEN MILLION.

MASSACHUSETTS PEOPLE deserve praise. Unprecentented voting registration in practically all Bay State communities indicates a really genuine interest in the approaching election.

In Boston, with 390,117 men and women eligible to cast ballots for the Presidential, Senatorial and other important candidates, the choices should be more carefully and popularly made than ever before.

That will be probably true also in most cities and towns, particularly in Brookline, Somerville, Worcester, Lowell and Springfield, where the number of new voters exceeds last month's most optimistic expectations.

However, it is greatly to be regretted that thousands of citizens who would be able to vote if they had registered have neglected to do so.

At a time when the country is being dragged rapidly and dangerously to the brink of war the apathy of such citizens defies explanation.

By E. V. DURLING

A SOMEWHAT bitter gentleman wants to know what is considered a fair tip for a barber shop manicurist. Says after a 75-cent manicure he tipped the girl a quarter and she gave him no thanks and a dirty look. A 33 1-3 per cent tip is certainly a fair one. Trouble with some of those "too beautiful" manicurists is they place much too high a value on the privilege of holding their hand . . . Lynn Fontanne's reading of Alice Duer Miller's "White Cliffs" was the best thing I have heard on the radio this year . . . People who try to win encyclopaedias by asking "Information Please" quiz experts things they can't answer correctly seem to have overlooked a good bet in "What are the words of the 'Star Spangled Banner'?" You think that is an easy question? All right, you write down the words and then check and see how many mistakes you have made.

YOU READ some sad stories in the newspapers. I was just reading about a fellow who is not married and does not drink or smoke. Boy, what a triple threat he is up against in the pursuit of happiness . . . It is said that Walter P. Chrysler started his career working in a railroad yard for seven cents an hour. What was your first salary, sir? Mine was ten cents an hour working as a freight notice messenger for the Pennsylvania Railroad . . . Note a recipe for "savory lamb stew," but there is no mention of dumplings. What is lamb stew without dumplings? Why, just like a day without sun.

EXPLAINING the tendency of some women to extend their cheeks instead of their lips for a kiss of greeting or parting, a young woman of Olympia, Wash., says: "Extending the cheek is the intelligent way to kiss. Kissing with the lips tends to increase the spread of germs, particularly cold and influenza germs. Therefore, it is not healthy and should be discouraged." About the only comment on this I can think of right now is to say: "Oh, yeah!"

THE PETITE or "Cute, Little Trick" type of American girl continues to be ignored by the style and beauty experts. The unkindest recent cut was the selection of a girl five feet nine inches tall to be Miss America 1940. At one time, small girls were all the rage. Mary Pickford, once "America's Sweetheart," is little. Marguerite Clark, idol of millions of males, was even smaller than Miss Pickford. Gloria Swanson was small. Why this recent switch to the lengthy lasses?

-:- MY DAY

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 18—Wednesday was another one of those days in which only the absolutely necessary time was given to work of any kind. I always find that when Anna and John and I do not meet for six months, there seems to be an endless flow of conversation that can fill up long hours of time. Visits are never long enough. But perhaps this is a good idea, it certainly is better than having them seem too long.

We had our luncheon out on the terrace with the children, who came home from school with just enough time to eat and rush back again. When they came home in the afternoon, they insisted that we all go out for a ride in the new boat.

Curtis proved his efficiency as a sailor by helping to cast off and tie up and by doing much of the steering. I could not help thinking how pleased and interested his grandfather would be to find him developing this ability with boats.

ON OUR return, Curtis showed me the gardens. This new home is certainly a grand place for the children because the land about it gives them an opportunity to grow vegetables and flowers and to play games of various kinds quite safe from the passing traffic.

In the evening, they showed me the movies of Johnnie's first attempts at walking.

I FIND considerable interest in the West on the part of various groups of women, who are already forming organizations on a purely voluntary basis to serve in home defense.

I think these groups will also increase the knowledge of community conditions and help to coordinate all the service agencies to meet community needs. The number of women co-operating in work for the community will be so much increased that more and better work can be done in many ways.

Tacoma, Washington, has a plan under the local government which includes both men and women. Perhaps, some day the national government will have time to think of using the total man and woman power of the nation on a much wider scale than can be covered by any military organization.

I AM interested to find that here on the coast, as well as in the East, there is considerable interest in the radio concerts given by young N. Y. A. orchestras. Mr. James Petrillo and the American Federation of Music are co-operating with N. Y. A. In these radio concerts I think there is a general realization on the part of the public that valuable work is being done in giving young artists an opportunity to be heard. If they once become established as professional musicians, they will, of course, add strength to the federation.

LILY PONS SHOWS OWN FILMS

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK, Oct. 18—Lily Pons and Andre Kostelanetz invited their friends to see the color films they had taken of their recent trip to Hawaii. After dinner the room was darkened and the films were shown . . . One of the scenes was a shipboard shot in which a young lady removed her outer clothing as if in a strip tease, and finally revealing herself wearing a bathing suit . . . A cough was heard in the darkened room—a male cough which indicated embarrassment . . . "Who was that?" asked Miss Pons . . . "That was Mr. Hays," Kostelanetz whispered. "You know—Will Hays."

BRAVERY: The editor of the London Daily Express, Mr. Christiansen, reports that he has introduced a new custom in London. Whenever he meets a Londoner who is joining the army, Christiansen gives him a white feather. "The way things are going," he explains, "any one who quits the ranks of civilians is quitting our first line of defense."

LILY PONS

ENTERPRISE: The cast of the St. John Ervine play, "Boyd's Daughter," had an arrangement whereby they'd work for reduced salaries during the Boston try-out, and then for full salaries when the show opened in N. Y. . . . The play was brought to N. Y. sooner than expected. Joe Gaites, one of the producers, then suggested to Hiram Sherman, who directed and acted in the play, that the Boston rate be applied for the first few days in N. Y. to make it a full week—and then an adjustment would be made . . . "This will simplify our bookkeeping," said Gaites . . . "I'm only an actor and the director, so it's okay with me," Sherman told him, "but the deputy from Equity will object" . . . "Very well then," said Gaites, "let's ask him. Where is the Equity deputy?" . . . Sherman replied: "I am the deputy from Equity."

CHATTER: Henri Bernstein, the French playwright, read Clare Boothe's "Europe in the Spring," and describes it as "All Clare on the Western Front" . . . Grover Whalen is negotiating a Washington post, in charge of the World's Fair executives who now are participating in defense work . . . Chaplin was so delighted with the reception to "The Great Dictator" that he presented a 25-karat diamond ring to his wife . . . Harold Rome's "Pins and Needles," now on tour, received excellent notices in every city except one—his home town, Hartford . . . C. V. R. Thompson, Lord Beaverbrook's correspondent in N. Y. and a British subject, is exempt from the British army, but was obliged to register for conscription here.

ESCAPE: A few months ago much publicity was given to the story of Diego Rivera's escape from Mexico City, where he had feared assassination. Rivera's flight was accomplished with the aid of Paulette Goddard . . . Actually it was a simple task—without any interference . . . That's why Miss Goddard was permitted to return to Mexico City and remained there until a few days ago . . . When she and Rivera were in the plane which was to take them out of Mexico, the police arrived. The plane's pilot informed them that Rivera was aboard . . . "That's quite all right," the police assured. "You just take good care of him and see that he's safe."

SUCCESS: Eddie Cantor is anxiously awaiting the completed script of "Not Tonight, Josephine," the musical written by Eddie Davis, the ex-cab driver . . . "I couldn't find a finish for the show," Davis told him. "Then I remembered how easy it was for me to think when I used to drive a cab. So I hired a cab and drove it around town" . . . "Did you get anything out of it?" asked Cantor . . . "Did I?" said Davis. "I got the finish for the show—and booked $4, besides."

SWANK: The Colony Restaurant, come war or blitzkrieg, determined to serve its elegant patrons the grouse which usually arrives from Scotland at this time of the year . . . The Britishers complied with the order and 50 grouse arrived on a boat carrying refugee children to America . . . But there'll be no grouse at the Colony, because the ship was so crowded that the grouse were stored in the forepart of the vessel—and the heat from the engines spoiled all of them.

ANOTHER SLICE OF THE REPUTED SCHMIDLAPP millions has been carved and earmarked, "show-business" . . . W. Horace Schmidlapp, currently bivouacked at the Copley Theater, is proving the most free-handed lad Broadway has had the pleasure of greeting in years . . . He is the most important discovery, perhaps, since Edgar Davis, the Brockton oil-well speculator, who kept a play called "The Ladder" running for a year to empty houses in New York.

MR. SCHMIDLAPP IS A YOUNG man, and ventured into the theater when the Shuberts and Ruth Selwyn decided to invest no more money in last year's flop, "Walk With Music," once called also "Three After Three" . . . Mr. S. "went" to the tune of $40,000, Variety says . . . A few weeks ago, the young Croesus (from Cincinnati) relighted the Copley as the money-man of a partnership devoted to operating a laboratory theater in the hope of finding a hit for Broadway.

THE FIRST ENTERPRISE was "Boyd's Daughter," first known as "Boyd's Shop" . . . It was not a hit . . . "Return Engagement" was the second effort, and this is reported to be more sprightly than the first one . . . Mr. S. and associates now will fall back on a play pioneered by Sam H. Harris in 1932, and entitled "Here Today" . . . This title was the subject of numerous wise-cracks, but they were too obvious to be repeated here . . . "Here Today" is in rehearsal, and brings the story of Mr. Schmidlapp and his Boston adventure up to date.

COMES NOW THE INTERESTING news that the Cincinnati dough-boy has escrowed the sum of $50,000 as part of a $200,000 bankroll reputedly about to be devoted to play production . . . Another $50,000 has been invested by Vinton Freedley, the Hasty Pudding actor of twenty years ago who is a practiced hand in theatrical production . . . Also present as a working partner is one Richard Krakeur, lately a theatrical agent . . . Richard's background is freighted with experience along the so-called Great White Way.

BACK IN 1924, Mr. Krakeur was the stage-struck son of the owner of the great Fifth Avenue house known as Maisson Blanc . . . His dad, Jacques Krakeur, opposed Richard's advent to the Broadway scene with all his might—and money . . . The senior Krakeur had a chain of stores, one in Paris and another in Los Angeles . . . But Richard had his fling, and he came up with a mild hit, "Marjorie," in which Elizabeth Hines made her first starring appearance after "Little Nelly Kelly."

"MARJORIE" WAS A "HIT" that didn't make any money . . . So Dick was lured back to a vice-presidency in his father's establishment at a living wage of $20,000 a year . . . Young Krakeur was bent on a Broadway career, and he quit his father to join Sam Harris' staff as production manager . . . These capsule biographies of the principals in the firm of FSK Corp., the Freedley-Schmidlapp-Krakeur trade name, may afford an idea of the solidity of the venture . . . If the new firm includes the Copley Theater in its plans, then the slow start the Back Bay house has had this season may not be too momentous . . . The Copley may stay open all season.

music) in the Battle of Broadcasts now going on . . . ASCAP has given the broadcasting chains until Jan. 1 to meet the demands of a new contract . . . And that is why you hear the sing-song ear-ache, "Practice Makes Perfect" so incessantly on the airwaves . . . It's one of the broadcasters' own songs, and its performance on all programs is a "must" . . . This column's pet newcomer among the Ed Wynn cast, Edna Sedgewick, has been given a test by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer . . . If the young dancer is photogenic, she will get a picture contract.

CHICAGO'S MAYOR SEEKS STUDIOS

By Louella O. Parsons

Mayor Kelly

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 18—What a raft of memories came crowding back today when Cecil De Mille, whose "Northwest Mounted" will be previewed in Chicago, told of a wire he had received from Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago offering him 21 acres along Lake Michigan, free, if he would build a studio there. Not so long ago, remember, it was Mayor La Guardia who was trying to woo the movies away from Hollywood. I'll never forget how excited "bizzener" was when I interviewed him in New York telling his plans to move the picture industry East.

RITA HAYWORTH

The Chicago area interested me immensely not only because it is my home town but because the Essanay Film Co. there in the good old days was as important as M-G-M today. In fact, in trying to sell his idea to De Mille, Mayor Kelly stressed the former Essanay glory. Charlie Chaplin once made pictures there. So did Gloria Swanson and Wally Beery. How well I remember when my boss offered Mary Pickford $45 but her mother wanted $55 and the deal fell through. Those were great days and exciting times—but if you ask me I'm betting the movies will never move away from California.

WARNERS are "between the devil and the deep blue sea" if you will pardon my language. They signed Rita Hayworth to take Ann Sheridan's place in "Strawberry Blonde" and now they can't find Rita. She, knowing nothing of Warners' idea of putting her opposite Jimmy Cagney and Olivia De Havilland, left for Mexico on a vacation with her husband, Ed Judson. Wires galore went out to her but up to last night she hadn't been found. I printed that Warners were negotiating with Miss Hayworth but I didn't take it seriously for I had a feeling that Warners and Ann would get together.

I DON'T KNOW how the plans for getting Robert Donat out of London are coming along but Leslie Howard won't obtain his exit permit in time to make "The Man Who Lost Himself." Either Leslie is refusing to leave or he can't obtain permission, for today I learned that Lawrence Fox, the producer, is casting Brian Aherne in the intended Howard role with Kay Francis as his vis-a-vis. The book, by H. De Vere Stackpole, is a mistaken identity opus calling for Brian to play a dual role.

* * *

THE MINUTE a picture is a hit you begin hearing all the "inside" stories. Believe it or not, "Knute Rockne—All American," was originally planned as a short by Warners and was peddled around to several actors — all of whom turned it down except Pat O'Brien. If it had been made as a short it would have cost around $30,000 and would have grossed about $40,000. But luckily Hal Wallis and Jack Warner changed their minds at the last minute and decided to spend $700,000 which will bring them back a cool $3,000,000 it is such a hit. One of the best pictures ever made, if you ask me.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD: Nancy Kelly, who nearly eloped with Irving Cummings, Jr., is expected to announce her engagement to Edmund O'Brien, her first love; Fritz Feld, famed comedian and Virginia Kraft, filed their intentions to wed yesterday; Victor Mature's heart beat today is Betty Grable. How that young man does get around; Arthur Hornblow, who has been so sick, was at the preview of his picture "Arise My Love," and it's a honey good enough to make him well and Claudette Colbert very happy for it is her best picture.

* * *

MERLE OBERON entertaining at a supper party at Ciro's in honor of her husband Alexander Korda. She is as proud as he should be over "The Thief of Bagdad"; all of the former Wampas baby stars showed up at the meeting at the Town House. The decision will be made later on which ones will win. Janet Gaynor, Sally Eilers, Joan Blondell, June Collyer, Eleanor Boardman, Dolores Del Rio and Sally Blane were all so beautiful that the present day Wampas babies will have to work hard to equal them.

National Guardsmen To Lose Nov. Ballot

By the breadth of a channel and the interpretation of a legal technicality, 70 national guardsmen listed as Boston voters today learned they will probably be unable to vote in the November elections.

The Boston Election Commission explained they can not be given absentee ballots as the law says absentee voters must be at least one city or town removed to be qualified. Presumably the men will be confined at the forts with duties on election day.

Dever Probes Tax Case Solicitations

Attorney Gen. Paul A. Dever today ordered a state-wide probe of complaints that a Boston accounting firm is illegally soliciting a large number of tax abatement cases.

Mayor Roger L. Putnam of Springfield charged the firm is offering to seek tax reductions for a fee of half the amount saved in violation of legal ethics if lawyers plead the case and amounting to illegal practice if accountants handle the litigation.

Answer for each week's series should be submitted within the week after that series appears in the Boston Record and the Boston American.

3—One hundred prizes will be awarded by the Boston Record-American in accordance with the published schedule of prizes, to those 100 contestants who, by their answers, achieve the 100 highest scores. A check Sheet will not be judged as a unit—each and every question will be judged separately. Thus, a contestant will get credit for each question correctly answered. No contestant may win more than one prize. Neatness does not count. Do not decorate your answers.

4—In case two or more contestants are tied for a certain prize, just what particular prize each contestant may be entitled to will be determined by submitting to each tied contestant a set of tie-breaking questions, and, if necessary, a second, third, or fourth set of tie-breaking questions. Prizes will be awarded on the basis of the highest scores achieved by contestants, in accordance with the instructions and scoring regulations governing the selection of such tie-breaking questions. At the discretion of the Boston Record and the Boston American, tied contestants may be required to work the tie-breaking questions, without assistance, in the offices of the Boston Record or the Boston American, in case of final ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded.

5—In order to qualify for a prize, contestants are required to accompany each weekly series of Check Sheets with a remittance of 10c in coin. An individual file will be set up for each qualified contestant and each weekly set of answers duly filed therein. After the contest closes, each individual file will be duly judged.

To those contestants who complete the 15 weekly series of Check Sheets and who in all other ways conform to the rules of the contest, the Boston Record-American will present a special quiz booklet created by Harold Hart, author of the famous quiz volume, "Invitation to Fun."

6—Any person, by entering this contest understands that it is a contest of individual effort, and agrees to abide by and accept as final the decision of the Boston Record-American on all matters affecting this contest, including among others the qualification of contestants, their disqualification at any time before or after January 27th, the closing date, for any cause deemed necessary, the application of the rules, the establishment of time limitations, the judging of answers, the scoring of answers, and the interpretation of such instructions (governing individual questions) as may be announced by the officials of the contest. By entering this contest, participants agree that their answers become the property of the Boston Record-American and will not be returned.

7—Entries that are not signed by name will not be considered eligible for prizes nor will any claims to the ownership of such entries be recognized. Entries which are illegible will not be considered. Not more than one prize will be awarded to members of any one immediate family. The Boston Record-American will not be responsible for entries or communications lost or unduly delayed either from the contestant to the Boston Record-American Contest Editor or from the Boston Record-American to the contestant.

wide areas on London's outskirts, however, few fell in the capital.

Besides the London area, points hardest hit included the important shipping center of Liverpool and an unnamed town in the midlands. The government said generally casualties and damage were small.

The raiders came earlier in the night than previously and stayed overhead throughout, about eight operating at a time, in contrast to the former tactics of 100 or more planes in an opening rush, followed by small waves

Germany's use of fast fighter-bombers, the Press Ass'n said, "will have the effect of hurrying into action our latest types of planes."

"Now that their fast fighter-bombers are escaping the wounds our Spitfires and Hurricanes have inflicted on other types," it added, "the Air Ministry will have to consider whether the moment is opportune to introduce our new and tremendously fast fighters.

"As with the fighter forces, so with the bombers. To increase the weight of our offensive it is now time to send out new squadrons of our heavy bombers accumulated during recent months. These planes are very secret."

BIG CHANNEL GUNS IN DUEL

DOVER, England, Oct. 18 (AP)—British and German long-range guns duelled across the 22-mile Strait of Dover today while bad weather kept rival air armadas in check.

Soon after daybreak the big British guns began firing through a blanket of mist at the Nazi-held coast in the Calais region. Shortly before noon the German artillery took up the challenge and began retaliatory fire. Bursts of shelling from both sides came at intervals of about 20 minutes.

Son of French Taxicab Army Leader Dead

VICHY, France, Oct. 18 (AP)—Maj. Gaetan Gallieni, son of Marshal Joseph Simon Gallieni, who led the famous "taxicab army" which saved Paris from the Germans in 1914, died today at Cannes. Maj. Gallieni was a holder of the croix de guerre.

Happy Because Her Hearing Is Coming Back

Mrs. L. A. Wertzbough, Berkeley Springs, W. Va., writes, "Send me another bottle of Otosine. IT IS BRINGING BACK MY HEARING and I am so grateful." If you are HARD OF HEARING, BOTHERED BY HISSING, RINGING HEAD NOISES, CLOGGED UP FEELING IN EARS, DIZZINESS caused by hard impacted wax blocking ear canals and preventing sensitive ear drums try Otosine Drops. They're safe, painless, and often prove a blessing to the deafened when the cause is impacted wax. Epstein's Drug, 2 Scollay Sq.

REVEALED! WHY WONDER BREAD'S PRICE CUT IS FRONT PAGE NEWS!

YES, it costs no more than the second best bread yet its rich "wheaty" flavor, its full quality is unchanged in any single way!

We'll say it's news! Big news! Good news! For the one best bread in town—the bread picked by 9 out of 10 women —costs no more than the second best! Yet we haven't changed its quality or size in any way!

You get the same rich, nutritious ingredients! The same mouth-watering flavor! The same marvelous texture! The same fragrant, "wheaty" smell! Yet the price has come down, so you can now give your family the best there is, and still be thrifty!

It's not news when a bread lowers its price—and lowers its quality, too. But it is news when the price comes down, and the quality remains the same! So switch to Wonder Bread! Ask for Wonder Bread by name! Insist on the bread with the red, yellow and blue balloons on the wrapper.

TUNE IN! "YOUR MARRIAGE CLUB" WEEI—8:00 P.M. EVERY SATURDAY

CONTINENTAL BAKING CO., INC.

Do you want your youngsters to be full of pep, vitality, and energy? One of the best sources, food authorities agree, is Wonder Bread. It is made of specially selected, costly ingredients to give your children the food-energy they need!

Wonder Bread makes better toast, too! Try this interesting test. Toast a slice of ordinary bread. Then, toast a slice of Wonder Bread. Compare the difference! Here's vivid proof that your own eyes can see!

How your family will "go" for the rich, delicious flavor of Wonder Bread! Even your children will notice how much better it is! And no wonder! Wonder Bread tastes wheatier . . . richer. Its texture is smoother, softer, more moist!

When you buy bread, don't just say "A loaf of bread." Ask for Wonder Bread by name. Insist on the loaf with the red, yellow and blue balloons on the wrapper. Why put up with the second best bread when the one best costs no more?

NOW 10¢

603,576 WOMEN, as shown above, have actually compared slices of all good breads in their food stores. Slice by slice, they've tasted them . . . felt them . . . smelled them! Exactly 546,446—over 9 out of 10—have chosen Wonder Bread the one best!

LOVE AND MARRIAGE—Would a Postcard to Girl Commit Him?

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I've been going with a young lady for a couple of years and would like to send her a picture postal of a beautiful view where I am enjoying my vacation. I don't want to do this if it would give our friendship a serious tone. In fact, I don't want to be committed to anything. JAY.

No, my dear sir, a picture postal of the beautiful view you are enjoying on your vacation commits you to nothing. Why this spasm of prudence?

Don't ever ask questions that may be difficult or embarrassing to answer—MRS. BEECKMAN.

KEYED to the appropriately romantic mood, bell-skirted as the ball gown of a last century's heroine, is this bridesmaid's dress. It is yards and yards around, made in a lustrous faille taffeta that swishes as one walks. The puffed sleeves, the diminutive waistline, the picturesque lowered hipline are all just as smart on the dance floor as they are in the procession. The Watteau "chip" matches. —ANNICE BRINK.

You Can Be Beautiful

Right Lotion for Football Fan

By ARLINE GOULD

WHEN SATURDAY MEANS football and tweeds by day . . . glamour and gardenias by night . . . there's the knotty problem ahead of how to look charming though chapped!

The burning question is . . how to preserve that dewy complexion in face of the elements, and hours from the nearest mirror . . the welcome answer is . . . a fragrant, special lotion. This rare find is replete with special talents . and especially adapted to the sensitive skin.

Mist-thin and not a bit greasy, the lotion has another distinction—it is completely untinted . . . completely transparent . . . so you can use it as a base with both day and evening makeup. That's true economy! And yet, for all these virtues, there's a sizeable bottle to be had for only $1.10; unbelieveably inexpensive for its quality.

If your income demands beauty on a budget, this lotion is your dish . . . you use so little for so much effect. To apply the lotion, spread it very sparingly with your finger tips . . . blot off the excess with tissue . . . then apply makeup . . . which will stay put . . . in any weather . . . and give you that "fresh as a daisy" look for hours.

To learn where you may buy this economical, all-purpose make-up base and skin protector, telephone Arline Gould, Liberty 4000 weekdays except Saturday, or write, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Delicious Fondue Always Favorite Family Dish

By MARTHA LEE

Fall styles in clothes and accessories are in the news columns, so why not a new fall style in the food columns? Simple nourishing dishes are always high style, especially when they feature fresh eggs. In fact when you combine that wholesome quartet — milk, eggs, bread and butter—in a delicious fondue, what better fall model could you find for luncheon or dinner menus?

By changing the details, you may have a main dish, or a dessert, but the success of your finished model depends entirely on the eggs. Why not? Eggs are rated by nutritionists as a leading natural food.

CHEESE FONDUE

1½ cups milk
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
Few grains cayenne pepper
1¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. paprika
1 tsp. grated raw onion
1 tbsp. butter
1 cup grated cheese
4 eggs

Scald milk, add bread crumbs (fresh and soft), seasonings and butter. Add cheese, stirring constantly until it begins to melt. Add slightly beaten egg yolks. Cool to lukewarm. Fold in the egg whites stiffly beaten, and turn into a greased baking dish, not more than three-fourths full. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 40 to 45 minutes.

HAM FONDUE

1 cup milk
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 tbsp. butter
¼ tsp. salt
3 eggs
1½ cups finely chopped cooked ham

Scald milk, add bread crumbs, butter and salt. Add egg yolks slightly beaten. Cool to lukewarm. Add ham. When ready to bake fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Bake as above.

Note: Canned salmon, or any cooked flaked fish may be used in place of the ham.

NEVER FAIL OMELET

4 eggs, separated
½ cup milk
½ cup bread crumbs
½ tsp. salt
Speck pepper
1 tbsp. fat

Mix yolks and milk, add crumbs and soak five minutes. Beat egg whites until stiff, adding salt. Fold whites into yolk mixture. Melt fat in pan, pour in omelet mixture. Cover and cook gently until puffy throughout and bottom layer browned, about 20 minutes. When done, cut through center the not cut through to bottom; fold over. Cooked chopped meat, fish or vegetables may be added to the egg mixture before cooking. Makes four servings.

CHOCOLATE FONDUE

2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 cup milk
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 tbsp. butter
½ cup sugar
¼ tsp. salt
3 eggs

Add chocolate to milk and heat, stirring until melted; stir until blended. Add bread crumbs, butter, sugar and salt. Add cinnamon, vanilla if desired. Add egg yolks slightly beaten. Cool to lukewarm. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into greased baking dish, and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 40 minutes. Serve with whipped cream.

Note: Cooked dried fruits are also delicious in fondue. Add the cooked, drained, chopped fruit after the egg yolks are added. Use ½ cup of fruit or more as desired.

'KNUTE ROCKNE' PROVES INSPIRING TO YOUTH OF NATION

EVENING AMERICAN, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1940

Met Offers Grid Thrills Aplenty

By PEGGY DOYLE

Immortalizing the greatest figure in American sports, Warner's "Knute Rockne—All American," now showing on the Metropolitan screen, should be an inspiration to the thousands of boys on the country's campuses—successors to those countless others to whom "Rock" was a two-fisted idol. For the Rockne picture has caught the spirit of Rockne and his "Fighting Irish."

One of the finest biographical films ever made, it makes crystal clear why the great Rockne, who lost his life in an airplane crash in 1931, will never die and why his boys continue to make football history to this day.

The story opens in Voss, Norway, in the carriage shop of the 5-year-old Knute's (pronounced Kanute) father. The latter has just decided he will take his family to America for the purpose of exhibiting the fine carriage he has made at the Chicago World's Fair. He wants his children to grow up in this land of opportunity. Later, Knute is shown working as a post-office mail-dispatcher to earn money to go to college.

This pause in education brought him to Notre Dame some years older and more mature than were his fellow students. One of these was Gus Dorais, who was to share fame with Rockne for introducing to the Eastern football world the forward pass that has been identified so closely ever since with Rockne and Notre Dame. George Gipp, who was started on the path of gridiron glory by Rockne, is another name to conjure with in football history.

And, of course, no Rockne biography is complete without mention of that quartet of backs who became famous as the "Four Horsemen."

Pat O'Brien proves himself the perfect choice for the Rockne role. He infuses the character with that human quality that was native of the balding, humorous Norseman. Donald Crisp's Fr. Callahan is one of the finest things he's done on the screen. Excellent is the word for Gale Page's Mrs. (Bonnie Skiles) Rockne, as well as for the supporting players, Ronald Reagan, Albert Basserman, Owen Davis, Jr., John Qualen and Dorothy Tree.

Second feature on the bill is "Calling All Husbands," domestic comedy co-starring George Tobias and Lucille Fairbanks.

JEAN NICITA is featured in "New Pins and Needles," which on Monday goes into its second and final week at the Plymouth.

BILL AT OLYMPIA

"The Sea Hawk," starring Errol Flynn, comes to Washington St. Olympia screen tomorrow in company with "Charlie Chan At The Wax Museum."

Robinson's News Epic Is Dramatic

By PEGGY DOYLE

The story of how Reuter's came to be "first with the news"—first to establish a carrier post between Aachen and Brussels, first to cable a speech word for word—Napoleon's—and first to give London news of Lincoln's assassination—is being dramatically unreeled at the Paramount and Fenway theaters.

The picture is Warners' "A Dispatch From Reuter's," starring Edward G. Robinson in one of his most credible forays into history.

The Reuter's chronicle begins with an alert, young messenger boy in Germany, who was so impressed with a courier from India who brought to his little town the news of the Far East that he himself eventually became known as the greatest reporter in history and found himself one day in Parliament hapnily if quietly accepting official vindication of a charge of falsifying a report of President Lincoln's assassination.

Miss Best as Ida Magnus Reuter is charmingly feminine and engagingly practical, an ideal wife for the gentle, intent, intelligent Reuter the one-time "Little Caesar" portrays with such sympathetic understanding. Seventy-three-year-old Albert Basserman gives another of his skilled performances.

Cooper's Texas Saga at Loew's

By JOYCE DANA

Gary Cooper goes back to the plains and pistols again as the rugged hero of Samuel Goldwyn's pretentious "The Westerner," another saga of Texas just after the Civil War, now at the State and Orpheum.

Mr. Cooper is laconic, handsome, and very noble indeed. He can drink his liquor—and they served "rub-the-brush" whiskey in those days—from tankards, he can ride fast and shoot straight, and he can, on occasion, turn out a pretty speech for a pretty girl with the engaging bashfulness that mows 'em down.

Gary's quite a lad all right. But it's Walter Brennan, as Judge Roy Bean, who holds court in the Vinegarroon bar-room, hangs men and spilts with the undertaker, commits arson, mayhem and murder, who is the real star of this latest in the fast-growing crop of westerns.

It's a fine, fat part, and whether he's matching wits or bullets, or snoring like nothing on this earth in a drunken stupor, or dispensing his self-made rules for so-called justice or standing in his Chickamauga uniform completely transfigured in the actual presence of the fabulous Lily Langtry, there's not one false note. It's all so completely in key that you can't help liking the old rascal.

What story there is concerns itself with the local warfare between the cattle herders and homesteaders, with pretty Doris Davenport's yen for hard-to-get Gary, and with old Bean's passion for the Jersey Lily, whom he has never seen. Just for a lock of her hair, clipped surreptiously by the resourceful Mr. Cooper when the enraptured Doris isn't looking, the judge will suspend law, order and hangings.

With Gary around, you can anticipate the local armistice and the great fields of corn waving while the long-horns stay peacefully on their own side of the fence. Doris gets her man, too, and all is sweetness and light west of the Pecos.

Mills Bros. Boston's Stars

So you want to play the saxophone, or maybe the clarinet or the bull fiddle? Well the Mills Brothers, "Four Boys and a Guitar," who take the top spot on the new stage bill at the Keith-Boston, can show you how. And the only instrument they have is that one lonely little guitar.

But what this quartet can do with their hands and vocal cords to make you think you're listening to a full complement of tubas, trombones, bassoons, oboes and what have you, ought to send Joe Cook's Four Hawaiians back to Waikiki. They can serve it up hot in the Harlem manner as they go to town with "Sweet Lucy," or they can give it the schmalz in "You Tell Me Your Dream," and "I'll Never Smile Again." Another number of the boys that looks like a winner is "Pennsylvania 6-5000," and they do a slick job on "Dinah," too

Wally Brown, another of our local boys who went places, takes headliner honors along with the boys, and he's as funny as three or four of your pet radio programs rolled into one

On the screen Boris Karloff is the same old bogey man in "The Ape," and the companion picture is "Drums of the Desert."

Hobby Lobby Film

Radio's popular Hobby Lobby program makes its screen debut on the South Station Theater screen today, with Mrs. Franklin D Roosevelt being interviewed.

UPTOWN'S FILMS

Uptown's screen program includes "The Sea Hawk," starring Errol Flynn and Brenda Marshall, and "Sporting Blood."

AUSTEN LAKE

Friday's Weekly Pick: The Football Roundup

AUSTEN LAKE

BOSTON COLLEGE-IDAHO—The Arapahoe Indians gave Idaho its name, meaning "gem of the mountains." B. C. isn't exactly a foothill itself this season, being the lone unscaled Alp of the region. Among the noted Idaho ranges in its crystal blue area of chasms, canyons and crags, is "The Seven Devils." B. C. counters with its "eleven Demons" with Charley O'Rourke (Punt, pass and pirouette) as the arch-imp. A long train ride for Idaho. A ballot for B. C.

Harvard-Army—Every cadet who comes to Cambridge tomorrow brings a duffle-sack containing a skeleton list of articles for personal needs. He also brings a pasteboard suitcase containing his fancy regimentals and, providing he has not overdrawn his meager cash allowances, he is permitted the lavish sum of $5 from the Academy treasury and will be allowed the interval between the end of the game and midnight to spend his fun-money on frivolity. But woe betide the student-soldier who misses roll-call when noses are counted at 12 p. m. Missing men don't get by with a simper and a blush when they appear before the adjutant. A timid guess for Harvard.

Boston U.-Cincinnati—Airplaning from the Cincinnati end of the World Series one night last week a weird, sulphuric Aurora Borealis tinted the indigo, moonlit sky with fingers of reddish light wiggling upward with a thumb to the moon's snoot. Science suspects that the aurora is caused by electrons emanating from the sun. It's all Greek to me. A morbid guess for Cinci.

BOWDOIN-WILLIAMS—Adam Walsh, one of Notre Dame's Seven Mules and a tawny-haired, lynx-eyed boy's man with a fetching husk in his voice, has bought a house in that charming town of Brunswick, Me., where he is contentedly raising petunias and a young son in the finest New England atmosphere. Many another college is cooing sweetheart murmurs for Adam to resurrect their football fortunes, but he prefers $5000 in contentment to $10,000 in contention. One against-the-traffic vote for Bowdoin.

Holy Cross-N. Y. U.—The first purple was produced by the ancient Athenians from a rare Mediterranean mollusk, a tiny drop at a time. As a stain it was produced in such small quantities that only Kings and the "economic royalists" of the time could afford it. Hence the expression, "Imperial Purple," a color still associated with majesty. NYU's Violet is a diluted form of the shade. Hence one for H. C., an aspirin for NYU.

Cornell-Syracuse—The "Titan of the East" against a collegiate Pinocchio. Cornell, having gnawed Colgate and Army like a limb of chicken, has amassed 78 points in two games. Syracuse, having snapped back from its 40-0 train wreck with Northwestern, the "Behemoth of the Middle West," licked NYU, 47-13. Another touchdown feast for Cornell. Picked bones for Syracuse

BROWN-TUFTS—According to that dictator of deportment, Emily Post, one should never make personal remarks during a formal dinner. It is permissible for an elderly wren to greet a younger wench, particularly a debutante or bride, with, "What a swell hunk of yard goods, dearie. Ain't you the heart-flop." But for the younger tools to say to the old frail, "Nerts Judy! You're all hips." That's execrable taste. One nousing guess for Brown.

Colgate-Duke—James B. Duke formed a tobbaco firm in 1880, while in 1867, Samuel Colgate discovered a laboratory concoction compounded of hog-fat, potash and ambergris (Yeh! Soup). Both made millions which later built great universities. Colgate's toilet aid to wash off the nicotine stains from smoking Duke's mixture.

Pennsylvania-Princeton—George Munger, Penn's coach, is the only millionaire football tutor in history. A young man, in his late twenties he wears a full Penn uniform during games, including leather shoulder harness and fibre thigh plates and is indistinguishable from his players who are instructed to call him "George." Shades of that old Penn growly cauliflowered, knob-kneed grampus—Bob Folwell. Sympathy for Princeton.

FORDHAM-PITT—The McCarthy Brothers, Bill and Ray, make a nice potful of scratch each autumn by promoting college football games at Fenway Park, the Polo Grounds, Shibe Park and the Yankee Stadium. They procure the colleges and the park owners pay them a percentage of the rental fees—an example of how initiative and willingness to exert one's mental muscles, even in these cash-cautious times, will make one rich. Poo-poo for Pitt and a slight vote for Fordham.

Michigan-Illinois—Harold "Red" Grange, football's famed iceman, has his No. 77 enshrined in the Illinois gym. Tommy Harmon, modern replica of the immortal carrot top, will have his "98" similarly hung in Michigan's archives—IF. All Tommy has to do is to keep snake-hipping through such soft, marshmallow-pie teams as Illinois, Penn, Minnesota, Northwestern and Ohio State. S'cinch! A conjecture for Michigan.

Columbia-Georgia—Ole Jaw-Jaw was busted around pretty liberally by Mississippi last week-end, while Columbia was clawing the Indian from the North, Daht'mth. The Jaw-Jaw, a name associated with mammy-fried chicken, sweet magnolia trees, kinky-headed pickaninnies, the chain gang and white mule, ain't what it uster be. A mild surmise for Luigi Piccolino's (Lou Little) Lions.

Minnesota-Ohio State—When Henry A. Wallace was secretary of Agriculture he supported farm prices by artificial means, buying millions of bushels of surplus wheat at standard prices and selling it abroad at a loss. This helped the wheat farmers and kept their sons in Minnesota—a clear case of proselytizing (All right! Look it up in Webster). One estimate for Ole round-at-the-ends-and-high-in-the-middle, O-High-O.

West Point Captures Boston

A confident Army squad arrived last night at the Huntington ave. yards and went directly to the Hotel Somerset where they will make their quarters. The Cadets were in a gay mood and showed no signs of suffering from their pasting at the hands of Cornell last week.

The Army game will headline an important week-end for the Crimson athletes. The Harvard and West Point jayvees will tussle at Soldiers Field tomorrow a. m. and the frosh will seek first win of the season against Andover.

PARADE IN HUB TOMORROW

The familiar scene of the marching Cadets through Boston and the colorful pre-game show will be a feature of the game tomorrow. About 1000 cadets will arrive in Boston tomorrow a. m. at 9:10 at the Huntington ave. yards and march to the Park st. subway station. The entire corps will parade into the stadium tomorrow at 1:15 preceded by the United States Military Academy band. After the game the cadets will be given their usual leave—'til midnight, after the game to hit the Hub's highspots.

The whole city of Cambridge is ready to acclaim the Harvard team as it heads for its first major win of the season. This evening a gigantic rally will form in the college yard and procede to Soldiers Field where there will be speeches by Coach Dick Harlow and Captain Joe Gardella.

HARVARD FAVORED

The Cantabs are a 6 5 favorite to make it two straight over the Cadets. Charley Spreyer had a field day against the service men last year and led the Crimson to a 15-0 romp over thte future soldiers. Harvard has a better team this year and should be able to baffle Coach Bill Wood's charges long enough to chalk up a win.

Coach Bill Wood sticks to the old school of football defenses and unless radical changes are made in the Army's defense tactics, Harvard should be able to rip the visitors apart. Against Cornell, which uses the Harlow system of offense, the Army put up a stern, but rather futile fight. The Army linemen were instructed to charge in fast and that makes a perfect setup for mousetrapping.

Dick Harlow has sent his team through an intensive week of drills and feels that the game tomorrow is within reach of his team.

There have been no changes in the Harvard starting lineup. Capt. Joe Gardella will continue to act as Charley Spreyer's sub at tailback and Bill Brown will again be at bucking back when the whistle is blown.

MAZUR MAKES DEBUT

Army has made an important shift in their team. Henry Mazur of Lowell, the best back at the Military Academy, has been inactive so far this season, but is listed to start against the Crimson. It is paradoxical that Mazur, a former Lowell High star, should make his debut for the Cadets here in his own backyard.

From all reports that are available about a pre-season game between Columbia and West Point, Henry Mazur is a great football player and will be the best back on the field. His triple threat duties leave little to be desired and he has had plenty of football experience to that he should not suffer from Stadiumitis.

Directly after the pep rally, the Harvard vanguard will leave for the Brae Burn Country Club to spend the night and will not return to Cambridge until just before game time.

CONN FAVORED TO WHIP M'COY

By JACK CONWAY

Billy Conn, world's light heavyweight champion, and Al McCoy are eagerly waiting for the sound of the gong which will send them into action for a ten-round bout before a near capacity crowd at a Goodwin A. C. show at the Garden tonight.

EX-EAGLE. Henry Mazur, Army tailback, calls his folks in Lowell up on arrival in Boston. Mazur was star freshman back at Boston College in 1938. He'll play against Harvard tomorrow in Stadium.
Boston Evening American Photo

Conn and McCoy are each confident of victory. Conn insists he will knock McCoy out, while Al says he will hand the light heavyweight champion a decisive setback.

If Conn loses, his chances of meeting Joe Louis next June will fade out of the picture.

A triumph for McCoy means a possible bout with Louis, and at least $100,000 in purses. Tonight's contest opens the door of fistic opportunities to Conn and McCoy.

McCOY GOOD SHORT END

In the betting, Conn is a favorite. This is natural in view of Billy's recent 13-round knockout of Bob Pastor.

While Conn is the choice to win, many persons who like to bet on short enders are backing McCoy. They point to the fact Al has more experience than Conn and also is a better puncher.

Bill Brennan, McCoy's manager, revealed today that in his final New York workout for the Conn bout that Al shattered a bone in one of his sparring partners with a smashing right hand punch.

BRENNAN ASKS CLEAN FIGHT

"McCoy was never in better condition than he is today," said Trainer Ray Arcel. "All we ask is that the boxing commission put officials in charge of tonight's bout who will see that each boxer gets a fair break.

"In the Pastor bout the referee found Conn guilty of repeated low punching with his left hook. Let Conn keep his punches up tonight. I shall insist that the referee compel Conn to live up to the rules of boxing."

Johnny Ray, Conn's manager, declares his protege is ready to show at his best and that his speed, boxing class and hard hitting will enable him to win.

CONN'S TITLE SAFE

It will be a battle of youth. Conn is only 22 years of age, while McCoy is 26, at the peak of his fighting form.

Both boxers scale a bit above the light heavyweight class. In view of the fact McCoy will enter the ring weighing more than 175 pounds, Conn's world's light heavyweight title will not be at stake.

Matchmaker Rip Valenti of the Goodwin A. C. says a near capacity crowd will see the bout. There are still plenty of choice reservations left, while there will not be a sellout. The Garden will be able to accommodate all who wish to see the bout.

Too Fast for Shoes

GREELEY, Colo., Oct. 18 (AP)—Ever hear about the player who ran right out of his shoes?

Bobby Flieger, Greeley State's little halfback, tried his best to do it in scrimmage this week. He stepped on his left foot with his right and so violently he ripped his shoe open. P. S. He also twisted his ankle, so don't try it.

Idaho Team Works Out At Fenway

Though the Idaho University grid squad which arrived in town at 10:25 this morning may have made the cross country hop just for the train ride, there's one fellow present in town who thinks not.

Gale Mix, a rotund, cheerful chap, who doubles in brass as Idaho's graduate manager of athletics and royal rooter No. 1, figures his Vandals have a definite chance against the highly touted Boston College Eagles tomorrow afternoon at Fenway Park. Mr. Mix should get together with B. C.'s Frank Leahy. The head mentor has been warning his squad not to take tomorrow's game lightly.

VANDALS ON IMPROVE

"Don't sell us short" was the gist of the Idahoan's message as he made the rounds of the Boston newspaper offices in company with Billy Sullivan, Boston College's ultra efficient publicity purveyor yesterday afternoon.

Mix then went on to explain about the three games that Idaho has lost this fall, about the sophomores, who, though they made many mistakes in the Oregon State, University of Washington and Gonzaga games, showed constant improvement, and about the long train trip across the continent, which the G. M. thinks is liable to do them more good than harm.

"The trip across the nation started last Monday," stated Mix. "En route, the squad, which numbers close to three teams, worked out in North Platte, Nebraska, and in Chicago, but for the most part the boys rested. They had plenty of time to think about their mistakes in those first three games. And with everything to gain and nothing to lose tomorrow, the lads should be in a perfect frame of mind. I repeat again, don't sell those Vandals short."

WORKOUT AT FENWAY

After dinner in a downtown hotel the Idaho squad, many of whom had never been further East than the Rocky Mountains, was bussed to Fenway Park for a final workout and signal drill. All hands were in good physical condition and looking forward to tomorrow's opening whistle. A physically big squad—the starting line averages 194 pounds, the backfield 171—Idaho in its Fenway Park session looked capable of handing the Eagles plenty of trouble.

In the camp of the opposition, Coach Leahy was sending his squad through a final signal drill. The Boston College mentor, as is usually the case on the eve of a game, was none too gay. With so much to loose and little to gain, Leahy is taking no chances. He'll employ his best lineup tomorrow.

TOC'S KNEE STILL OFF

Blocking Quarterback Henry "The Hammer" Toczylowski, however, may have to be used sparingly. Toc is still botnered by a knee injury sustained in practice two weeks ago today.

The Boston College captain for the Idaho game will be announced at a dance sponsored by the Junior Class in the Senior Assembly Hall tonight.

LEOMINSTER INVADES LYNN

Peabody High, undefeated, untied, unscored upon and championship minded, invades Newburyport. Leominster, undefeated but tied and scored upon, with similar aspirations, comes across state to tackle Lynn Clasical in the schoolboy features of today's fairly busy card which extends through until tonight.

The beachcombers at Revere were rather disappointed at not being able to watch their favorites, Revere High in action since school authorities decided to switch the Nashua game to New Hampshire. This also will be a lamplit tilt.

There are a number of other night games but not within reaching distance of Boston. Worcester North takes on Worcester South, undefeated and untied Worcester Commerce in four games, meets Worcester Academy, Clinton meets Hudson and Taunton takes a whack at Durfee in other after season engagements.

The afternoon National League games has Boston Latin against Roxbury Memorial in the opener and the Boston College High English entanglement following. Private schools also continue to share the Friday afternoon spotlight with the Roxbury Latin at Browne and Nichols match the standout.

Wild Ducks Plentiful in Maine

By DARK MONTREAL

It bred a spot of weather yesterday and the results may be the first decent day of duck shooting since opening of the season. Few flight birds have appeared in this area but a little storm will start the natives moving around within gun range. If we get the weather there isn't any doubt but what we'll get the best duck shooting of the past decade.

Dick Reed sends word that there are definitely more ducks in Maine than for many years and Earle Browne, who runs a duck camp at Bowdoinham on Merrymeeting Bay estimated the other day that there were as many as 15,000 wildfowl in the sanctuary between Big Brick Island and Little Brick Island.

Opening of the upland game season in Massachusetts on Monday will find hunting conditions better than average early-season. The sharp frosts, followed by high winds, have cleared out much foliage and not all the birds will be flushing out of sight. Upland hunters who happen to jump a duck from a swamp or pot-hole are warned beforehand to hold their fire unless they have a duck stamp. Every hunter, whether he is abroad after wildfowl or not, should possess a duck stamp, not only in order to be able to take advantage of such an opportunity but because the duck rehabilitation program is one in which all sportsmen should take an active part. It's worth $1 just to see ducks and geese flying, whether or not you ever shoot at one.

The waning angling season continues to produce fair striped bass fishing . . . Frank Turner nailed a 16-pounder and an 18-pounder in Cape Cod canal the other night and I heard Wes Jenney took a big one on his salmon rod . . . Laurie Washburn and Ted Bryant have had fair luck, trolling through the canal, as has Phil Hathaway . . . Phil and a party of his pals shoved off from Wareham for Cuttyhunk yesterday and will continue the experiments with plugs for the big bull bass . . . Brainard Kenning was shipping down some of those pike-minnows . . . The big jack smelt are running at Plymouth and though they are around the town pier most of the time they will not bite all of the time. If you happen to strike them right you get some dandy fishing.

CUP RETIRED—Mrs. Mildred Willis of North Easton, with her 13-inch beagle Buster, whose win in the white hare stake of the Southeastern Massachusetts Fish and Game Association, run at Plympton, retired the 15-inch membership cup. Elmer Willis beagles had previously won two legs on the cup.

WORCESTER, Oct. 18 (AP)—A squad of 30 Holy Cross players, headed by Coach Joe Sheeketski, left early this morning for New York and tomorrow's football tussle with New York University in the Yankee Stadium.

The Holy Cross team holds a light workout this afternoon in the Yankee Stadium and will stay the night at the Westchester Biltmore Country Club.

Sheeketski declared that he would start his first team with the exception of Capt. Jack Kellar, left tackle, who is favoring an injured foot.

GRID CARDS BUY COLLEGE STARS

CHICAGO, Oct. 17 (AP)—The Chicago Cardinals of the National Pro Football League announced today acquisition of Jim German, former Centre College back, and Frank Ivy, end with Oklahoma last year.

WILLIAMS, COLBY, WESLEYAN, AMHERST, N. H. PICKED TO WIN

New England's so-called major football naturally occupies the lion's share of the available newspaper space about tomorrow's grid clashes, yet in this same section of the country many of the smaller colleges will be putting on exhibitions well worth seeing.

With the Maine schools, the "Little Three" and others so evenly balanced here in New England competition between them is much keener than it is at several of the big games.

Some of the outstanding small college affairs are:

Williams at Bowdoin.
Bates at Northeastern.
Connecticut at Maine.
Springfield at New Hampshire.
Haverford at Wesleyan.
Middlebury at Colby.
Norwich at Coast Guard.
Mass. State at Rhode Island.
Rochester at Amherst.

Amherst may not have a great deal of trouble with Rochester, and Wesleyan is not expected to find Haverford too sturdy, but outside of these games every one of the others should be bitterly contested.

Williams with only one loss, a 20 to 19 defeat in the hands of the Army, is a slight favorite to down a battered Bowdoin eleven but the disappointing Polar Bears are long overdue and may pop up with a real effort here.

Bates and Northeastern is strictly a tossup—the breaks figure to decide this game and any prediction as to its outcome would merely be guessing.

Colby and Connecticut are the only two undefeated small college elevens. Connecticut may fall in its affair with Maine but Colby may hang on another week at the expense of Middlebury.

Mass. State has yet to win its first game and may be headed for another tough afternoon against Rhode Island State. The only hope for the Mass. State gang is that they generally play inspired football against the Rams.

New Hampshire is somewhat battered after three tough games in a row but Springfield is so far below par this fall that the revamped Wildcats should still have enough to win their third in a row.

Merchants Play J. J. At Hemenway Park

Hemenway Park in Dorchester will be the scene of the Dorchester Merchants J. J. Club game on Sunday afternoon.

With six entries in the circuit's two divisions coming from Dorchester, scheduling difficulties arose this year when all clubs are scheduled for home games. The Merchants would ordinarily use Dorchester Town Field, but as the Mentors and Swans and White Cubs, a feature at Fin da Corner, the nearest field which could hold a sizable crowd is Hemenway.

N. Y. U. MAY CANCEL MISSOURI GAME

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (INS)—Students at New York University are urging that the annual N. Y. U.-Missouri football game be cancelled unless the mid-western school reconsiders its action and permits a Negro to play with the Gotham team.

Under prevailing contracts, Leonard Bates, N. Y. U. Negro, will not be permitted to play in the game at Columbia, Mo., on Nov. 2. An "all-university" committee at N. Y. U. adopted a resolution assailing Missouri's stand and stating that "in case officials of the university of Missouri refuse to allow Leonard Bates to play that the game be cancelled."

Guy M. Stout, chairman of N. Y. U.'s student committee, declared that the action of Missouri officials constituted a "sad commentary."

"The very essence of sports," Stout said, "is fair play."

Harris to Mind Crybabies?

CLEVELAND, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Plain Dealer said today it learned from an authoritative source in Washington that Stanley (Bucky) Harris has been offered a one-year contract to manage the Cleveland Indians.

Harris' contract as manager of the Washington baseball club expires this winter.

(In Washington, owner Clark Griffith of the Senators said he had told the Indian management to "go ahead" and talk to Harris, "but from what I've learned they haven't done so yet. Harris is fishing off the Florida coast.)

The Plain Dealer said it was reported Harris expressed willingness to succeed Oscar Vitt as Cleveland manager but insists on a three-year contract.

Alyva Bradley, president of the Indians' club, was reported to have arranged to place Harris' proposition before a meeting of his board of directors Oct. 28. Bradley is on vacation at Sea Island, S. C.

Harris, 44 years old, has served as player and manager in the American League for 20 years.

Vitt's troubles as manager of the Indians have given baseball followers universally the conviction he would not be rehired.

RULES GOVERNING THE FOOTBALL CONTEST

NO. 4

The object of the Daily Record-American Football Contest is to select winners of twenty collegiate football games, to be played each Saturday. Anyone may enter the contest, excepting employes of the Record-American and their families.

The selections are listed on the chart here which is ready to be filled out by the contestant. Simply place an (X) in the space nearest the name of the team you think will win, or if you predict a tie game place the letter (T) in the spaces nearest the names of the tying teams.

Calculate the AVERAGE score of all competing teams, except those for which you predicted a tie score. Write winners' and losers' average score in space provided in coupon. Do not write individual scores in spaces, or on the coupon. Indicate average scores only by adding scores of all teams and then divide the total by the number of teams competing.

Only ONE solution may be entered by a contestant. All entries must be in the office of the Record-American not later than Midnight, Friday, the day before the games.

You need not buy a copy of the Record or American to enter this contest. Tracings of the contest form may be made from copies in the public library, or in the Record-American office. Such entries will be acceptable, and given equal consideration with those clipped from these newspapers.

A prize of $100.00 will be awarded the person whose entries contain all selections correct. If more than one person submits perfect solutions $100.00 will be awarded the tieing contestant whose average score tabulations most nearly match with actual average scores of the games. If no perfect list of selections is entered, $50.00 will be awarded to the contestant having the nearest number of selections correct, and should two or more contestants tie for this prize the tieing contestant submitting the most nearly correct average scores will receive the award. A prize of $25.00 will be awarded the person submitting the second largest number of correct solutions and should two or more contestants tie for this prize tieing contestant submitting the most nearly correct average scores will receive the prize. Twenty-five awards of $1.00 each will be given the twenty-five contestants whose entries contain in succession, the next largest number of correct solutions and whose average scores most nearly match the actual scores of the games.

Winners of each week's contest will be announced on the Saturday following the games. The decision of the judges in all cases shall be final.

Mail all entries to the Record-American Football Contest Editor, P. O. Box 1967, Boston, Mass. In the event of postponement of any of the games, such games will automatically be excluded from the contest. In the event that the planned date of any game scheduled is changed then that game is automatically excluded.

Mr. BOSTON

By JACK CONWAY

HARVARD CAN make its supporters forget its defeat by Michigan by winning from the Army at the Stadium tomorrow . . . The Crimson will not meet as severe opposition when it opposes West Point as it did when it clashed with Tom Harmon and his playmates from the Mid-West.

There was a time when Harvard only rated a slim chance of beating the Army . . . Those were the days when West Point had some of the strongest football teams in the country . . . While the Ivy League influence has not spread to West Point, this year's Army team is particularly weak as was evident by the crushing defeat it received from Cornell.

Despite the fact neither Harvard nor the Army has a top eleven this Fall, there will be the usual high interest in the Stadium clash . . . The Cadets always put on a colorful show, apart from the football game and this attracts thousands of people who seldom attend a college football clash.

The Harvard Athletic office has also recognized the fact its football team is not the box office card it formerly was, and has slashed the price of some of the seats for tomorrow's contest . . . I have always felt that colleges get too much money for tickets for their games . . . There has been little logic in the system by which the same price has been charged for seats behind the goal posts as for those in midfield . . . Harvard has changed this system for the Army game . . . by having some low-priced seats at all games, people attend the contests who otherwise could not afford to do so . . . Frequently they occupy seats that would otherwise be vacant . . . New football fans are made, while there is greater enthusiasm at the games.

One of the chief weaknesses of colleges that profess to stand for 100 per cent purity in football is the fact they still insist upon charging the highest possible price for tickets . . . This is why their stands on athletics are not generally accepted by the public . . . Their conduct of their own box offices has too much of a touch of high pressure commercialism . . . Let the colleges eliminate this form of hypocrisy.

BOSTON COLLEGE looks forward to scoring a victory over Idaho tomorrow . . . Despite the fact the Eagles should win by a decisive margin, Frank Leahy has kept the pressure on his charges . . . He realizes that if a top college eleven lets down, there is always danger that it will lose . . . There is also a greater element of risk from injuries if players do not keep going on high while they are on the gridiron.

Charley O'Rourke has become one of the greatest attractions of the football season . . . There will be many persons journey to Fenway Park tomorrow afternoon to see this amazing youngster toss forward passes . . . You cannot convince anyone who has seen O'Rourke in action this year that he isn't the equal of Harmon of Michigan, as an all-round back.

In the matter of victories and attendance, the Boston College football team season has been very successful . . . At the opening of the season there was talk that if the Eagles did not do better in the matter of receipts than they did last season, it might be necessary to curtail the football program at the Heights . . . All thought of doing so has been eliminated as a result of the success of Frank Leahy's team.

YOU WILL HEAR more of Red Vulcan, John R. Macomber's two-year-old who displayed such brilliant form in winning at Rockingham Park . . . A race between Bull Brier, Little Beans and Red Vulcan would prove interesting if it could be arranged . . . Unfortunately Little Beans has been fired recently and will be out of racing for some time . . . There is still a possibility that Red Vulcan and Bull Brier may clash during the present meeting at the Salem, N. H. track.

Red Vulcan has plenty of speed in getting away from the barrier, and he finishes strongly . . . The horse has been well schooled, and should give a splendid account of himself in future races . . . John R. Macomber has done much for New England racing, and his friends will be rooting for him to score successes with Red Vulcan.

A year ago Macomber was interested in purchasing Blue Pair, but he was told at the time that he had a better looking racing prospect in his own barn . . . The horse referred to was Red Vulcan.

BILLY CONN, meeting Al McCoy at the Garden tonight, has given new life to boxing in Boston . . . The interest in the meeting between Conn and McCoy is additional proof of the fact the fans of Boston and New England will support the right kind of ring attractions . . . For years Boston had the best there was in boxing, and it was natural that the crowds should drop off at ring shows when inferior attractions were offered.

Matchmaker Rip Valenti recognized this situation, and first brought Hammering Henry Armstrong here against Paul Junior and Ralph Zanelli . . . Both of the Armstrong bouts attracted large crowds.

Valenti then signed Conn to clash with McCoy . . . Conn is expected to win, but he will not have an easy time doing so . . . McCoy is only 26 years of age, and has had more experience than Conn . . . The world's light heavyweight champion is a slow starter, which will give McCoy an opportunity to take an early lead.

Alabama Seen Best Of Grid Longshots

Jack Doyle, the Broadway odds manufacturer, is quoting even money on Ohio State-Minnesota tomorrow according to the Associated Press . . . Your old pal, Lefty Gomez of the Yanks, is trying to peddle a radio serial called "Lefty Gomez's Hot Stove League" and it looks like it may grab off a sponsor . . . The price tag on Kirby Higbe of the Phils is exactly $150,000, of which at least $100,000 must be cash on the line . . . Columbia had better not make any defensive mistakes against those Babbit Backs from Georgia tomorrow . . . Max Baer breezed in today to start rehearsals for his forthcoming Broadway show.

TODAY'S GUESS STAR

C. E. McBride, Kansas City Star: "I can't pick long shots for myself, so why should I be doing it for you . . . but I give you Alabama as the team most likely to upset the dope . . . Tennessee is a 1-4 favorite out here."

HOW COME DEPT

Folks are wondering about this: When Fritz Crisler coached at Princeton, Kiski was considered a Princeton prep school. This year there are three Kiski grads on the Michigan varsity and four more on the yearling squad. Personality, plus, eh?

This Jack Crain down at Texas U. must be the goods, at that. They say when he gets through there next year they're going to have his face lifted and enroll him as a freshman all over again . . . A nifty book called "Bowling" has just been authored by Joe Falcaro and Murray Goodman, the sports writer . . . Clemson's rampaging Tigers are booked with Boston College in Beantown next year.

TOMORROW'S ODDS

Here's how the Broadway books hawk the tough uns: Tennessee 3-1 over Alabama. Georgia-Columbia and Yale-Dartmouth, even money. Texas Aggies 3-1 over Texas Christian!!! U. C. L. A. 7-5 over California. Cornell 4-1 over Syracuse. Mississippi U. 3-1 over Duquesne. Fordham 8-5 over Pitt. Michigan 3-1 over Illinois. Stanford 6-5 over Washington State. Tulane 7-5 over Rice!!

Five Yards Pepper

STATE COLEGE, Pa., Oct. 18 (AP)—Penn State fotball fans are convinced they have one of the best "little" backs in the nation.

He is Pepper Petrella, who in two games has gained 223 yards from scrimmage for an average of almost five yards in an attempt.

BEARS EYE CHANCE TO TIE TOP

If there is anybody along the sports front deserving of a belated pat on the back, it's Eddie Casey, who came out of a long gird retirement to take over the newly organized Boston Bears.

Starting much later than every club in the American League with players who were secured after most of the professional outfits in the country had made their choices, Casey has turned in a near miracle job.

DROPPED OPENER

The Bears dropped their opener 17 to, 0 and those fans who sat and waited to be shown, felt that neither Casey nor the Bears had a chance of going anywhere.

Today the situation is entirely different.

By winning three games in a row, the Bears are now deadlocked in second place with Milwaukee and can share the top rung with Columbus, the league leader, if they can again beat Buffalo here at Fenway Park Sunday.

CHANCE FOR TRIPLE TIE

Columbus is leading the loop with four victories against one defeat, while the Bears and the Chiefs have won three and lost one. Since the Bulls are idle Sunday, a triumph for the Bears and Chiefs would mean a triple tie for the top.

B. U. FEARS LONCHAR, CINCI BACK

Determined to avenge last year's one touchdown upset, the University of Cincinnati arrived here this morning for their coming clash with Boston University at Weston tomorrow afternoon.

The Bearcats boasting of three victories in four starts, will work out lightly at Weston last this afternoon and then take things easy until game time.

Having toyed with Centre last week in a soft 20 to 0 win, the visitors are well rested adn in top shape. In addition to their win over Centre, the invaders clouted Hanover 45 to 0 and Louisville 7 to 0.

Their one defeat was a 14 to 0 loss in the hands of the best Navy team in years and according to Bob McKelvey, Boston University's freshman coach who scouted the game, the Bearcats suffered from a bad attack of stage fright and did not play the football they have displayed on other occasions.

Against Centre, the Joe Meyer-coached eleven was great. One back in particular had a field day, and that individual was Tommy Lonchar, a 160-pound triple-threat, who is one of the hardest running backs in the Mid-West, despite his lack of size.

If the Terriers can by any chance bottle this "scat" halfback, they may have a chance of coming through with an upset victory.

Ross to Settle Stewart Case

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—Except for a minor dispute affecting the National Hockey League's corps of referees, everything was in readiness today for the opening Nov. 2 of the league's 1940-41 season.

The last of the usual glut of pre-season business matters was dealt with yesterday at a meeting of the league board of governors, headed by President Frank Calder. Only remaining item left unsettled was the status of Referee Bill Stewart, former manager of the Chicago Black Hawks.

Stewart, in summer an umpire with the National baseball league, has been at odds with the N. H. L. since last season and Manager Art Ross of Boston Bruins was delegated by the board, at his own request, to attempt to reach a settlement.

Tennessee, Rams Big Game Choices

By The Associated Press

Conducting the weekly interview with football's willing (but frequently misinformed) crystal ball:

ALABAMA-TENNESSEE: Alabama's the mystery team of the Southeastern Conference, but Tennessee, off its decisive defeat of Duke, looks like the Sherlock Holmes to provide all the answers. The Crimson Tide, reputedly exceptionally strong, hasn't played a major foe yet, and this vote, therefore, goes to Tennessee.

NOTRE DAME-CARNEGIE TECH: Tech teams of the past have been tough meat for the Irish. This is another year and it will be a major surprise if Carnegie keeps the score within reasonable bounds.

CORNELL - SYRACUSE: Syracuse, with a sophomore find in Sal Mirabito, may give the Big Red some trouble, but Cornell is so well drilled and strikes with such devastating quickness that a Syracuse victory seems impossible. The ballot is cast, as usual, for Cornell.

MICHIGAN-ILLINOIS: Bob Zuppke, canny coach of the Illini, engineered one of 1939's greatest upsets in this game. History can, and does, repeat, but so far as this corner is concerned, we'll take Harmon, Evashevski and company.

WASHINGTON STATE - STANFORD: Stanford, lone unbeaten, untied major outfit in the Far West, has a stand-out back in Norman Standlee and a tricky offense. Washington State has tied Southern California and beaten California. In a quandary of this sort, only the coin can help . . . Stanford.

TEXAS AGGIES-TEXAS CHRISTIAN: Stringing along with the Aggies to the bitter end.

COLGATE-DUKE: Duke has had time to get over the Tennessee setback and rates the nod in this one.

PENN-PRINCETON: Penn may not be quite so good as the 56-7 score against Yale indicates but should get past this one, especially since the Tigers seem to be having line trouble. Penn.

PITT-FORDHAM: The Panthers have developed surprisingly well, and this should be fiercely contested all the way, but Fordham is the choice.

COLUMBIA-GEORGIA: Columbia teams, given exceptional coaching, usually are strong until injuries play hob with a small squad. Georgia is young but potent. Out of the hat . . . Columbia.

YALE - DARTMOUTH — De-emphasis, doubled in spades. But Seymour and Anderson will be back, and the nod goes to Yale.

HARVARD-ARMY—With Johnny Hatch an uncertain Army starter, the choice is Harvard.

OHIO STATE-MINNESOTA — It begins to look as though Ohio State was overrated. Minnesota is rested and ready—or should be. Minnesota.

WISCONSIN-NORTHWESTERN —Having hurdled Ohio State, De Correvont, Clawson, et al, look safe enough in this one although Wisconsin's passes may spell trouble. Still, Northwestern

INDIANA-IOWA—Bo McMillan's luck is going to change sooner or later but, in the meantime, Iowa.

KANSAS-NEBRASKA — No need to look past Nebraska.

MISSOURI-IOWA STATE — Too much Christman for Iowa State.

OKLAHOMA-KANSAS STATE— The Sooner's defense hasn't looked like much but they have plenty of scoring power. Oklahoma.

WASHINGTON-OREGON STATE —The coin spins and says . . . Washington.

Boston Boys Play for Bates Against Huskies

Northeastern will seek its second straight victory of the year tomorrow afternoon at Huntington Field when it faces Bates in an alumni home-coming-day game.

The visiting Bobcats, heartened by their victory over Tufts last week, will bring a flock of Greater Boston boys. The game will be something of a home-coming for Coach Wendell Mansfield, who won his first coaching fame at Winchester High.

The Bobcats are captained by Mike Buccigross, who starred at Jamaica Plain and Cushing Academy. Harry Gorman, kicking ace from Boston Latin, Al Topham, heavyweight tackle from Huntington; Johnny Malone of Lawrence Academy, Norman Marshall of Malden, and George Parmenter of Hingham are other Greater Boston boys expected to star for Bates against the Huskies tomorrow.

You'll never miss expensive imported beer once you've tasted Trommer's White Label. Choicest hops, barley-malt exclusively (no other grain used) and the same old-world formula go into its brewing.
